

Pay-Hour Bill Is Forced Back To Conferes

Southerners Threaten to Fight Compromise Plan

DIFFERENTIALS AIM
Bloc Offers Alternate
Proposals to Joint Committee

Washington—(U)—Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, predicted today congress would adjourn "about Tuesday."

After talking with President Roosevelt, Barkley replied to a question about adjournment prospects:

"Not a chance this week. I think we will quit about Tuesday."

Washington—(U)—A threat of southerners to fight a previously approved compromise forced a joint congressional committee to reopen today discussion of the pay provisions of the wage-hour bill.

Armed with an ultimatum supported by 18 southern senators in a caucus this morning, Senators Ellender (D-La.) and Pepper (D-Fla.)

southerners on the conference committee, told the conferees they must have wage differentials or they would make an active floor fight on the legislation.

The southerners proposed a new compromise, by which a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour would become effective for all interstate industry at the end of seven years, but with exceptions which would permit differentials on a sectional basis.

The conference committee previously had agreed, with 12 of the 14 conferees concurring, to a compromise which would excuse only those industries which could prove that at the end of the seven year period that a 40-cent minimum would cause unemployment.

The southerners insisted, however, that such factors as lower living costs and freight rates, which they said were discriminatory against the south, should be considered in granting exemptions.

Senator Ellender (D-La.), one of the conferees, said:

"If they (the conferees) don't accept our plan there is going to be a lot of talking on the bill. I guarantee that."

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), the other southern senator on the conference committee, said he would propose to the conferees that a minimum wage scale of 25 cents an hour be made effective for all interstate industry as soon as the bill becomes operative.

Proposes Boards
His proposal also would establish industry boards empowered to fix the minimum wage to be paid in each industry. These boards would be charged with increasing this minimum to 40 cents an hour as soon as "economically feasible."

However, as to when the 40 cent scale must be reached.

Under Pepper's proposal, the industry boards would have power to make a differential in wages within an industry. Larger units within the industry probably would be ordered to pay a higher minimum than the smaller ones, Pepper said.

This, in effect, would provide for a geographical wage differential if the board found that living costs and other factors made it impossible for one section of an industry to attain the same level of minimum wages as another portion of that industry.

Proposal On Hours
The hour question would be approached in the same manner, Pepper said. He suggested fixing 44 hours as a general maximum, but at the same time giving industry boards power to increase this to 48 hours if necessary. The boards would be directed to reduce the maximum to 40 hours as quickly as possible.

Ellender charged representatives of the American Federation of Labor with "interfering" with the work of the senate-house conference committee.

Blames A. F. of L.
The A. F. of L.'s influence, he said, had upset a compromise by which the southerners hoped to prevent

TVA COUNSEL

Washington—(U)—The congressional committee investigating TVA, having selected Francis Biddle (above) Philadelphia as chief counsel, sought today to complete its staff of engineers and auditors.

Chairman Donahay (D-Ohio) said these men would be sent to Knoxville, Tenn., to prepare for committee hearings in July. He said Biddle, 52-year-old lawyer and former chairman of the national labor relations board, probably would begin work Monday.

Committee Tries To Reach Accord On Spending Plan

Attempts to Compromise Differences Between Bills of 2 Houses

Washington—(U)—A senate-house committee tried today to decide just how much should be spent for the administration's program to improve business by spending and lending.

The committee's job was to compromise differences between the $3,723,000,000 relief and public works bill passed by the senate and a similar $3,154,000,000 measure approved in the house.

After the morning session Senator Townsend (R-Del.) reported that "from the looks of things now it may take some time to reach an agreement."

President Roosevelt asked congress yesterday to retain an additional $175,000,000 for WPA voted by the senate.

Writing to Speaker Bankhead, the president said that "the unemployment outlook has not improved" since he sent congress his request for a $1,250,000,000 WPA appropriation seven weeks ago.

The $1,250,000,000 was voted by the house to continue work relief activities for the next seven months; the senate voted $1,425,000,000 for eight months.

Adequate at Present
The latter amount, Mr. Roosevelt said, "should prove sufficient to meet our relief needs until congress has the opportunity to survey the situation at the beginning of its next session and make the necessary appropriation for the balance of the fiscal year."

Members of the senate-house conference committee predicted approval of Mr. Roosevelt's request.

Welcome Test of State Tenure Act

Racine School Board Prepares to Consider Briefs

Racine—(U)—Counsel for Mrs. Mae Freeman Ryan and the city had instructions from the Racine school board today to file briefs within a week in Mrs. Ryan's fight to retain her position as a teacher despite the board's ban on married women instructors.

Board members, who said they welcomed a test of the new Wisconsin teachers' tenure law, announced they would consider the briefs as a committee of the whole.

Council Votes To Reconsider Patching Job

Black Top

Koepke Company Submits
Low Bid on Third Street Paving

The city council last night voted, 9 to 3, to reconsider a previous resolution authorizing the Charles A. Green and Son company to patch the black top on College avenue after a recess during which aldermen inspected a sample of surfacing material taken from the pavement Wednesday morning.

Aldermen unanimously decided to pave Third street with concrete and ordered the board of public works to assess benefits and damages. The Koepke Construction company offered the low bid of $8,341.58.

Arguments on the College avenue paving were reopened when the board of public works asked aldermen to reconsider their decision and offered two alternatives. The first was to replace the central portion of the street with new material in accordance with the recommendation of W. H. Skidmore of the Chicago Testing Laboratories and the second, to divert traffic to parking lanes, permit central parking and observe the condition of the pavement for one year before taking any action.

How They Voted
Aldermen DeLand, Harriman, Thompson, Keller, Grignon, Knut, Vanderheyden, Kubitz and Franzke voted to reconsider patching the pavement while Aldermen Steinhauer, Brautigan and McGilligan opposed reconsideration.

It is the intent of the council to defer its final decision until next Wednesday, so the problem of what to do about the alleged pavement failure is right back where it started. A copy of the board's new proposals and the council's action will be sent to the Green company officials who will be asked to appear before aldermen next week.

The original resolution of the board—to remove all the black top on the street and replace it with new material—was not discussed.

The council reached its decision to reconsider during recess when aldermen inspected the paving sample and thrashed the thing out privately. However, the board explained in its report that it be-

Fear for Crops As Volcano Erupts

Mayon Crater Continues to Spew Rock, Ashes
In Philippines

Manila—(U)—Natives knelt in the streets of Guinobatan today and prayed that the earth-shaking shower of stone and ash might cease pouring from Mayon volcano.

The portmaster of Legaspi reported the fiery mountain spewed incandescent rock with greater intensity than at any time during the seven-day eruption, shortly before noon today.

Showers of ashes fell upon villages and plantations beyond the base of the crater, and fear was expressed that the crops on hemp and coconut plantations might be destroyed by ashes which were carried by the wind over four provinces of southeastern Luzon island.

Refugees who fled villages and homes were promised relief from threatened food shortage today when the commonwealth government ordered release of sufficient funds to provide emergency rice supplies and temporary shelter.

Health authorities ordered refugees in some of the half dozen concentration camps inoculated against typhoid, fearing that the water supply was unsafe.

President Manuel Quezon and Mrs. Quezon were enroute to Albay province aboard the presidential yacht, to see that the refugees were cared for.

The Rev. Miguel Selga, Manila volcanologist, planned an inspection of the volcano and the deserted villages at the base of the crater.

Great Lakes Hearing Scheduled July 26-28

Milwaukee—(U)—R. F. Malia, secretary of the Great Lakes Harbors association, announced today that the Great Lakes and Central West Maritime commission hearing would be held in Milwaukee July 26-28.

The hearing will analyze the foreign commerce needs of the Great Lakes and the section between Pittsburgh, the Ohio river and Mississippi and Missouri river watersheds. It will be part of a national survey undertaken to permit various sections to express their needs of boat service and new trade routes to foreign countries.

Uphold Act of 1857 To Protect Worker From Molestation

Lansing, Mich.—(U)—The Michigan Supreme court held constitutional yesterday an 1857 act prohibiting individuals or groups from "molesting a worker in the lawful pursuit of his vocation."

Counsel for the United Automobile Workers of America (CIO) had argued the statute was an abridgement of the right to picket during strikes.

The ruling came when the court affirmed the lower court decision of Lester Washburn, regional director of the U.A.W.A., who was sentenced to pay a $100 fine and $150 costs or serve 90 days in jail because an employee was barred from his work at the Capital City Wrecking company here.

The naming of Washburn and several other union leaders in warrants in the case precipitated Lansing's one-day labor holiday on June 7, 1937.

Court Clerk at Waukesha Denies Perjury Charge

Tavernkeeper Also Pleads
Innocence in Slot Machines Case

Waukesha, Wis.—(U)—George L. Peck, municipal court clerk, today pleaded innocent to an indictment by the Waukesha county grand jury charging him with perjury and false swearing. His bond was fixed at $2,000.

A plea of innocent also was entered by Reinhold H. Schott, Okauchee tavernkeeper, charged with ownership and possession of slot machines on three counts, during June, July and August of 1937. His bond was set at $1,000.

Peck was indicted last night following testimony he gave the jurors an hour earlier in connection with a slot machine raid. The jury, after returning indictments, recessed its investigation of vice and gambling in the county.

Circuit Judge C. M. Davison announced today he would hear at 3 o'clock p. m. Saturday arguments of attorneys regarding the transfer of the case of Sheriff Walter Liskowski outside the county. The case, in which a charge of venue is sought involves charges of malfeasance and subordination of perjury.

Makes Two Reports
The grand jury reported twice yesterday. Earlier in the day it had returned eight indictments, including one against Simon A. Murray, Chicago attorney, who was accused of attempted bribery of a former Waukesha county sheriff.

Peck had been appointed court clerk by Municipal Judge David M. Evans, who previously was charged by the grand jury with altering court records, larceny as bailee, and being inmate of a house of ill fame. Judge Evans' trial has been set for June 13.

The grand jury, which began probing county conditions last November, recessed on call after indicting 36 defendants.

Lindberghs Leave Home In England for Island

London—(U)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh have left Long Barn, in Kent, their English home for two and a half years.

Friends said presumably they had gone to lonely Illice island, off the coast of France's Brittany, which the flier bought last April.

A reliable source said the Lindberghs had given up their farmhouses for good and, with their two sons Jon and Land, left the country "several days ago."

"I know they intend to go to Illice island, but whether they have gone there directly I cannot say," this source asserted.

Orchestra Leader Gets Divorce in California

Los Angeles—(U)—Arthur L. Jarrett, singing orchestra leader, today obtained a divorce from the beautiful Eleanor Holm, one-time Olympic swimmer.

All this talk of a romance between Eleanor and Billy Rose, the theatrical producer, caused Jarrett "great mental anguish and embarrassment," he testified at the hearing. Judge Charles E. Haas granted him a decree.

Both the producer and Miss Holm have declared they would be married if Jarrett obtained a divorce and if Rose's wife, Fanny Bruce, did likewise.

U. S. Envoy Asks Tokio to Stop Bombing Non-combatant Property

Washington—(U)—Ambassador Joseph Grew at Tokio asked the Japanese government today to take urgent measures to stop bombing of noncombatant property in China.

The state department said Grew was instructed to apprise the Japanese foreign office of an attack of Japanese planes upon the Lingnan university campus yesterday.

Grew, the announcement said, told the Japanese that three bombs were dropped on the edge of the school's athletic field 200 yards from residences of Americans at the university.

There were 37 Americans at the university at the time.

Canton—(U)—Japanese airplanes ferried their cargoes of explosives and dropped them in the vicinity of Canton and neighboring railway stations in the vicinity but dropped no bombs on the shattered South China metropolis, where intensive anti-aircraft fire greeted them.

Threats were Hingtak on the Canton-Hankow line, Shengkung on the Canton-Kowloon line that feeds China war supplies from the unblockaded British port of Hong Kong, and Shuiwuan.

The Shengkung bombing at 9 a. m. smashed locomotives and coaches of a train but the crew and passengers escaped.

Chinese soldiers brought their rifles into play when one of the planes flew low several times over Shamen, the international settlement, but the firing was without effect. The pilots apparently suspected Chinese planes might be lurking about Canton to repel future attacks.

Execute Traitors
While the war-depleted populace nervously scanned the skies for a continuation of the attacks which have dealt a staggering blow of more than 8,000 killed and wounded since May 28, it was reported unofficially that Canton authorities in recent weeks executed 400 alleged traitors, including Formosans and Koreans.

A large quantity of hand grenades was said to have been seized and an internal uprising thwarted.

One theory advanced was that Japan's savage bombing attacks were the result of the thwarted plot, though military authorities viewed the raids as an effort to paralyze the South China center of rail communications and halt the flow of munitions to the Chinese front.

Twenty-five planes which struck at the city last night in the last of three attacks yesterday set huge fires blazing from incendiary bombs near the Asia hotel and across the river from the international quarter.

SEC Representative to Report on Buckman Case

Madison—(U)—Lawrence S. Lesscr, representative of the federal securities exchange commission, was enroute to Washington today to make a report to his superiors on the E. E. Buckman company case, which has been under investigation by the SEC.

Meanwhile Attorney General O. S. Loomis resumed conferences with Special State Counsel Bruno V. Bitker to determine whether any further prosecutions should be started against the three officers of the firm, who were convicted in Milwaukee on 23 counts of violating the state securities law.

President B. E. Buckman and Vice President Louis C. George were sentenced to terms of one of three years each. Secretary E. C. Holt received a sentence of one year to a year and five days.

It was announced yesterday by James C. Corcoran of Waukegan, chairman of the Democratic State Central committee.

Body of Kidnaped Boy Found; G-Men Question Suspect

Hit Testimony of Woman Witness In Harlan Trial

Offered $100 for Every Organizer She'd Help
'Get.' She Says

London, Ky.—(U)—For 55 minutes today the Harlan labor trial defense endeavored to discredit a woman witness who testified yesterday she had been offered $100 by a deputy sheriff for every mine union organizer she would help deputies "get."

In vigorous response to questions by Charles I. Dawson, chief defense counsel, Mrs. Martha Howard, 30, denied:

That she was in jail the night of Feb. 9, 1937—the night she testified several deputies sat at her table in a Harlan restaurant and later left to "go see old man Musick."

It was later that night that Bennett Musick, 19, son of Marshall Musick, United Mine Workers of America organizer, was killed.

She also denied that she had any ill feeling toward Merle Middleton (who she testified yesterday, called the other deputies from the restaurant the night young Musick was killed), because she and a man named Gross had worked at a place of business operated by Middleton and had been accused of stealing $250. She said she had "never heard of the charge."

Questions Witness
Former Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson of defense counsel questioned the woman closely about her personal activities during the hour-long examination.

Howard—sometimes a miner, sometimes a grocery clerk—followed his wife on the stand.

Staring fixedly ahead, he corroborated his wife's story of events the night of the Musick killing.

Mrs. Howard yesterday testified that Jack Hickey, a Harlan deputy, offered her $100 a piece to put United Mine Workers of America organizers on the spot.

"John Hickey said that for every man I helped them 'get,' there would be $100 in the sheriff's office for me," she testified.

She said she declined Hickey's offer.

Discuss Plan to Broaden Trading

SEC and Exchange Members Start 'Round-Table'
Talks in New York

New York—(U)—Representatives of the federal securities and exchange commission and the New York Stock Exchange gathered today for a discussion of proposals for broadening bond trading on the exchange.

With bond dealings on the big board running exactly around the lowest levels in about 20 years, brokers were hopeful ways would be found for bringing a larger share of the business into the organized market place. The bulk of the bond business now is done in what is called the "over-the-counter" market, off the organized exchanges.

William O. Douglas, chairman of the SEC, came to New York to expedite "round table" cooperation between the exchange and federal authorities for solution of common problems. Announcing the method recently, Douglas said it marked the end of government efforts to "crack down" on the exchange.

Representatives of large insurance companies and banks were called into the conference since they are the largest bond buyers and sellers. The meeting, in fact, was held at the Bankers Trust company.

Action Completed on River-Harbor Measure
Washington—(U)—The house completed congressional action today on a bill authorizing construction of $37,000,000 of rivers and harbors projects. The measure was sent to the White House for the president's signature.

The measure authorizes a wide variety of projects but does not appropriate any money.

Before approving the bill yesterday the senate struck out house language which Senator Norris (I-Nebr.) contended would have given the army engineers undue authority to determine national policies on waterway and power developments.

The house accepted the amendment.

Georgia Banker Hits Competition Of U. S. Agencies

Says Some Government Groups Harmful in Many Instances

Milwaukee—(U)—William S. Elliott, Canton, Ga. banker, told the Wisconsin Bankers' association today that "competition of government-sponsored agencies is a matter of grave concern."

"Many of these," he said, "started in the midst of depression when banking could ill afford to carry the load. As banking has gotten back on its feet and needs loans, this competition is not essential but in many cases harmful."

Elliott said the last report he saw "shows 37 government-sponsored agencies in the banking business in one form or another and of these 14 relate to agriculture."

"The various agencies of the farm credit administration had outstanding loans at the end of February, 1938, amounting to $3,283,009,000, according to recent figures," Elliott continued.

"This is quite a large block of agricultural credit and included $147,000,000 loans of the production credit associations whose members used to borrow from the country bank."

Farm Loans Decline
"At the same time, we find in a report issued by the bureau of agricultural economics, United States Department of Agriculture, that total agricultural loans of commercial banks in the United States declined from $5,317,374,000 in 1921 to $1,230,538,000 in June, 1937. Loans

Man Plunges to Death At Milwaukee City Hall

Milwaukee—(U)—George Gazapian, 58, a widower with three small children, plunged to his death from an upper floor in the rotunda of the city hall here today.

Coroner Frank Schultz said the force with which the body landed on the tiled main floor indicated Gazapian had leaped from the eighth floor railing.

At the home of a married daughter in West Allis, where Gazapian had been living, his daughter Esther, 11, said her father told her last night, "this is the last supper" and gave her an envelope containing two bank books.

Police said the books showed Gazapian had withdrawn his last $700 since March, and that 16 cents in change and WPA cards were found in his pockets. One book, officers said, showed Gazapian had a balance of $12,000 in 1931, when he operated a tavern and boarding house.

Holy See Continues to Protest Bombardments

Vatican City—(U)—A Vatican news service said today that the Holy See was directing "continual insistence" to General Francisco Franco, leader of insurgent Spain, against bombardments of civilian populations.

Such action, it was said, is part of the Holy See's policy of doing always what it can to diminish suffering and hardship in war and there has been "no let up" in appeals made to Franco in this direction.

Other than this "unending insistence" no special protest or appeal is being made at this time and the Holy See is not joining in any move with other powers, the news service said.

Case Not Completely Solved, U. S. Agents Indicate

RANSOM RECOVERED

State Attorney Moves
For Immediate Grand Jury Action

Miami, Fla.—(U)—The body of kidnaped James Bailey Cash, Jr., was found today and G-men announced the recovery of the $10,000 ransom and the arrest of a suspect but indicated the case still was not completely solved.

"We have the kidnaper or one of the kidnappers," said J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, in discussing the arrest of Franklin Pierce McCall, husky 21-year-old truck driver who he said admitted writing the three ransom notes and collecting the money.

Hoover declined to say whether authorities were seeking possible confederates. He also turned aside questions as to whether any others were in custody.

State Attorney George A. Worley moved immediately, however, to have a special grand jury called for next Monday to return an indictment.

Leads Officers To Body

Sheriff D. C. Coleman said McCall, without any show of emotion, led Hoover, himself, and a squad of agents to the dense thicket where the dead boy had been left, without an effort at burial. Little remained but the skeleton and fragments of the pajamas the 5-year-old tow-head wore when he was seized from his bed May 28.

When it was explained what condition the body was in the boy's father decided not to look at it. Friends of the family said they planned an early, private funeral.

It was McCall who called Cash's attention to the third ransom note two nights after the abduction, saying he found it on the floor of Cash's apartment and that the kidnaper apparently had slipped it under the door.

Trail Led By G-Men
Sheriff Coleman, suspicious because the note had been wadded into a ball, arrested McCall June 1. After questioning he was released, with G-men shadowing him. The following day he joined the volunteer possemen hunting for clues over the very ground where the body and the ransom were hidden. That night authorities picked him up again and he has been held ever since in a detention cell at the F.B.I. office after a downtown sky-scaper.

There he could be protected from violence, but Princeton received the news the case had been "broken" without any great stir. McCall's wife and her mother had left town and their whereabouts were not disclosed.

In addition to recovering the ransom, the authorities also found the shoebox in which Cash delivered the 1,500 bills of small denominations.

Roosevelt Is Planning Western Trip Itinerary

Washington—(U)—The White House announced today that President Roosevelt—if conditions permitted—would leave on a western trip July 7 and speak in Covington, Ky. July 8.

No details were announced. It was expected, however, that the president would speak from his train at the stop in Kentucky, where Senate Leader Barkley is being opposed for renomination in the Democratic primary by Governor A. B. Chandler.

The president first will keep a long planned engagement the morning of July 8 at Marietta, Ohio, where he will speak in connection with the 150th anniversary of the Northwest Territory.

Tentative arrangements call for Mr. Roosevelt, on leaving Kentucky, to visit Tennessee, Oklahoma, Texas and California. He may make a stop or two between the last two states. The president is expected to take a naval vessel on the west coast for a cruise down the coast and through the Panama canal.

State Department Issues Reply to House Dairy Bloc

Thinks Congressmen Favor Return 'to Embargo of Post-War Period'

Washington (AP)—The state department told members of a house dairy bloc who recently criticized the trade agreements program that the congressmen were advocating a return "to the embargo tariff policy of the post-war period."

The statement was made public by Representative Cullin (R-N. Y.), chairman of a committee of 71 house members who signed a petition attacking the reciprocal trade program.

The petition, filed with the committee for reciprocity information, and addressed to President Roosevelt, charged the trade agreements program was threatening the stability of the dairy industry and asked the chief executive to prevent "further cuts in tariff duties on dairy products."

It urged a return to the duties in force before adoption of the reciprocal trade agreements act.

KILLS WIFE, RIVAL

"I warned them both... I knew it would happen this way," said Policeman John F. Lewie, 53, in Chicago police station where he is shown after he had killed his wife, Mrs. Phyllis Lewie, 40, and her companion, Harry O. Johnson, 40, in Chicago's loop. The slaying occurred when Lewie found the couple in Johnson's car in the loop.

Council Votes to Reconsider Patch Resurfacing Job

lieved A. W. Dow, vice president of Colprover Roads, Inc., was in error when he said the condition of the black top had improved during the last several weeks because the most recent sample still shows numerous uncoated particles.

Oppose Reconsideration

However, Aldermen Steinhauer and Brautigam stuck by their guns and, along with Alderman McGilgan, refused to consider any alternative but patching.

Alderman Steinhauer said: "I'm not in the habit of changing my vote and I'm not going to admit that I made a mistake last week but I'm willing to get Green before the council. Let the mayor veto it but don't go ahead and forward and back. If the mayor feels like vetoing then we can take other action."

Alderman Brautigam argued: "There ain't no reason why we should take that motion off the books. Leave it there until we hear from the Greens. Maybe when Green comes up he'll be satisfied."

Alderman Thompson explained that voting to reconsider would only mean opening the problem to seek new information and to see if the Green company would be willing to wait a month or two before starting the patch job.

Favor Concrete

A delegation of Third street property owners indicated they favored the use of concrete to pave their street and Alderman Vanderheyden introduced a motion to that effect. Other bidders are: Holtz and Bass, concrete, $9,435.40; Simpson and Parker Construction company, concrete, $9,493.50; Charles A. Green, reinforced concrete, $9,717.76; hot sheet asphalt, $11,119.70; and hot asphaltic concrete, $11,119.70.

The city clerk was ordered to advertise for bids for paving work on John street from Walter avenue to S. River street. Fremont street from Oneida street to Lawe street; and on S. River street from Oneida street to Lawe street. Plans and specifications for the proposed paving were adopted unanimously and grades were ordered recorded.

John McHugh, 1308 W. Prospect avenue, was awarded the contract to furnish labor and materials for sewer laterals on Third street from Memorial drive to Story street. His bid was $1 per foot.

An assessment of 43 cents per foot for sanitary sewers on Harrison street from Carpenter street to Harmon street raised a howl of protest from Fourth ward aldermen who maintained the sewers were installed by relief labor and that only the cost of materials should be charged.

Mayor Goodland explained that the regular charge for sewers is 75 cents per foot and that the 43-cent assessment included only the actual cost. The Fourth ward aldermen then objected because the wages of the foreman were included in the cost. Aldermen Knut, Brautigam and McGilgan voted against the assessment which was adopted 9 to 3.

The council authorized the purchase of six alarms to be installed about fire alarm boxes in the city. The six alarms will cost $120.

Lawrence Wizen, 315 S. Badger avenue, was given an operator's license and an application for an operator's license, filed by Andrew Zemlock, 212 E. Harris street, was referred to the police and license committee.

Mayor Goodland named and the council confirmed appointments to the board of review. Aldermen DeLand, Harriman, Grignon, Knut, McGilgan and Franzke will serve on the board.

Southwest Farmers Wage Bitter Warfare to Curb Hordes of Grasshoppers

Springer, N. M. (AP)—Grasshoppers by the billion were on the march in the deep southwest and Rocky mountain region today, threatening farmer and stockman with ruin.

Pitted against a fantastic insect menace to millions of acres of farm and grazing lands were hundreds of men and machines, waging desperate war against seemingly relentless "hopper" hordes.

National guard detachments moved into infested areas in north-eastern Mexico and the Texas panhandle today, while Colorado, Oklahoma, Montana and Wyoming farmers and government agencies mobilized their resources against the pest.

Also in Wyoming, Montana, Utah and Idaho, the grasshopper threat was overshadowed by the Mormon cricket, destructive and equally voracious cousin of the "hopper."

In New Mexico, where scores of poison mixing plants have been working day and night for two weeks, the dreaded migratory movement of the "hoppers" was under way.

In Union county and northern Colfax county, crawling insect armies were on the move overland as crews of weary CCC enrollees, farmers and stockmen dumped poison by the ton to check the migration.

Speed Final Drive

Fighting forces moved at top speed against the impending zero hour when the grasshoppers cease to crawl and take wing. Once in the air, their destructive attack on range and crops cannot be checked.

"If we can't lick them this week, they'll lick us," declared Governor Clyde Tingley of New Mexico, appealing for $100,000 federal aid.

The current investigation is the fruit of last year's uncoordinated invasion, when winging clouds of "hoppers" laid eggs in countless numbers. A repetition this year, all authorities agree, might seriously endanger the entire state of New Mexico and cripple financially ranchers and farmers.

New Mexico's grasshopper coordinator, Albert K. Kitchell, covering the "front" by airplane, reported the menace checked in some spots, but described as serious a nearly 100 per cent infestation of a 25,000-acre tract in Harding county, where migration was in progress.

A Texas control committee set up headquarters at Dalhart in the panhandle, to which Governor James V. Allred dispatched trucks and national guardsmen.

Kay Rogers, Appleton High Graduate, Gets Harvard Scholarship

Kay T. Rogers, son of Professor and Mrs. Walter E. Rogers, 911 E. North street, is one of 60 outstanding high school seniors awarded scholarships by Harvard college, Cambridge, Mass., the university announced today.

Awards announced today are in addition to 34 national scholarships announced earlier this week. The seniors who received scholarships totaling $28,350 are from 21 states and the district of Columbia.

Rogers this year was the recipient of the highest honor given to Appleton High school students, the craftsmanship shield, as well as joint winner of the science medal. He maintained an excellent scholastic record and was active on the Student council, Hi-Y clubs and received letters for basketball and track.

Samuel N. Pickard Elected President Of State Bankers

Head of Manufacturers Bank at Neenah Is Honored at Parley

Samuel N. Pickard, president of National Manufacturers bank at Neenah, was elected president of the Wisconsin Bankers association at the final session of the forty-fourth convention today in Milwaukee.

Pickard, who was vice president last year, succeeds Clarence Hill, chairman of the board of Port Washington State bank at Port Washington.

One of the younger generation of bankers, he has been active in the affairs of the state association for several years. Under his leadership, the banks in Wisconsin have sponsored a program aimed at "taking the mystery out of banking," hoping that the general public might have a better understanding of banks' functions.

Pickard is a director of First National bank, Ripon, the Universal Motor company and Oshkosh B' Gosh, Inc., at Oshkosh. He is a member of the board of national missions of the Presbyterian church, a trustee of Ripon college and Wayland academy at Beaver Dam, and a director of Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance.

Serving in the United States marine corps as a private from 1918 to 1919, he is now a member of the American Legion. He was last year's president of the Neenah rotary club.

Utility Development WPA Project Given Government Approval

Kaukauna — A WPA project involving an allotment of $140,981 in federal funds for hydroelectric development under the Kaukauna utility commission has been approved, according to a letter received here from Congressman George J. Schneider. After review by the comptroller general's office, the project will be eligible for operation at the discretion of the state WPA administrator.

Proposed work includes razing the groundwood mill on the site of the proposed power plant below the Outagamie mill, deepening and widening the tailrace, excavating for intercepting canal and constructing a dam with a tainter gate section. The power house and electrical equipment will be installed by the city.

Wage-Hour Bill Is Forced Back To Conference

the fixing of a definite date for reaching the minimum pay goal of 40 cents an hour.

As agreed on by the conference, committee, the bill would put a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour into effect in all interstate industry immediately. This would advance to 30 cents an hour the next year. At that point industrial boards would be organized to determine the minimum for each industry.

At the end of seven years, however, all industries would have to advance their minima to 40 cents an hour, except in cases where the boards found that requirement would curtail opportunities for employment.

Ellender said the southerners were dissatisfied with this proposal because of the seven-year clause. His southern colleague on the conference committee, Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), said he had voted for the compromise in the belief it was the best that could be obtained.

Proposed Hour Schedule

Pepper said he would move to reconsider adoption of the compromise in an effort to bring the industry boards into existence at once. This would enable them to raise the wage minimum to 40 cents as quickly as feasible.

The committee, discussing maximum hours, adopted as a tentative working basis the proposition that no interstate industry should work its employees more than 44 hours without paying them time and a half for overtime.

This 44 hour scale would be in effect the first year, succeeded by a 42 hour scale the second year, and the ultimate goal of 40 hours the third year and thereafter. There could be exceptions to the 42 and 40 hour regulations, but not to the 44 hour week.

These exceptions immediately prove to be a stumbling block. A question was raised about collective bargaining contracts which pay workers far in excess of the minimum of 40 cents an hour, but which require employees to work as much as 48 hours a week.

Would Exempt Contracts

Most committee members agreed the law should not be permitted to disturb such contracts.

The committee had so many details to settle that it may not finish its work until late this week. Administration leaders still hope to adjourn next Tuesday or Wednesday.

A senate-house committee began efforts this morning to reach a compromise on the $3,723,000,000 relief and public works bill. President Roosevelt asked retention of an additional $175,000,000 work relief fund which the senate had approved.

Both chambers were rushing to clean up miscellaneous business. The senate yesterday approved the $37,000,000 rivers and harbors bill, and took up today the $375,000,000 flood control measure.

The house passed the $277,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill, which includes funds to start the billion dollar naval expansion program.

The bill also contains $200,000 to help G-men investigate kidnappings.

It's Odd But It's Science

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

New York — Soft glass makes a slightly hard pillow.

The pillow material is the new glass fiber. Strands of this glass are finer than any hair, finer than anything in nature except eiderdown. The glass fibers are about equal to eiderdown.

But the Allergia Products Co., of Newton, Mass., found the fine glass unsuited for pillows. It has, they reported at the American College of Physicians meeting here, a "hard" feel when the head presses its strands together.

This is surprising, in view of the fact that the fiber glass is so elastic that after being compressed to half its ordinary volume, it springs back to original shape without outside aid.

Glass pillows were tried in the hope that they would be the perfect answer for the person who is allergic to the contents of a pillow. Some persons get skin rashes or even hay fever from the ordinary stuffings of pillows.

The "allergies" are due to a chemical reaction. Glass is presumably free from this possibility. The Newton concern reported that its best success is with pure silk fluff for filling pillows. The silk retains its softness and elasticity under repeated pressings.

Clears Way for Work On Marinette Streets

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau Washington — The president has approved a $55,848 WPA project, Congressman George J. Schneider, Appleton, has announced, to improve city-owned streets through Marinette.

Besides grading and surfacing of the streets, the project also includes operation of gravel pits in or near Marinette to produce materials for use on the project. No federal funds will be expended for royalties on materials extracted from, or rentals for use of gravel pit properties now owned by the sponsor, the city of Marinette.

Upon final clearance by the comptroller general, the project will become eligible for operation at the discretion of State WPA Administrator Philip Flanner.

Kaws Will Clash With Bays in Fox Valley Loop Game

Ray Diedrick Will be on Mound for Locals at Northern City

Kaukauna—Kaukauna's Fox River Valley baseball entry will attempt to improve their position in the first half race when they travel to Green Bay Sunday for a contest with the Drums. A home game here June 19 against Appleton will conclude the first half of the split schedule.

It will be the first time Green Bay and the Kaws have met, and by competitive scores should be an even match. The Drums have beaten two teams which have defeated Kaukauna, Oshkosh and Menasha, while Neenah and Little Chute, both trounced by the Kaws, have taken Green Bay into camp.

With only two games to go the Kaws have only an outside chance for the championship this half. But with the return of Carl Schuler, pitcher who was counted upon this season, they will be hard to stop next half.

Ray Diedrick will go after his fourth victory of the year Sunday at Green Bay. Diedrick already holds decisions over Little Chute, Neenah and Grand Chute. Ralph Wurdinger, whose batting has added much to the Kaws attack, will be on first. Cliff Vanevenhoven at second. Ralph Johnson at short and Carl Schuler at third complete the infield. Omaha Gast, Gib Busse and Vic Rohan will roam the outer garden. George Bloch will start behind the bat.

"THE BATTLE OF THE TREASURIES"

Marco Polo traveled for years and encountered many dangers to satisfy a curiosity that made him crave a sight of the world's wonders.

The American, on the other hand, may sit at home and through modern inventions view more amazing wonders than ever came before the eye of Polo, and not the least of which is the wild scramble for the senatorship in Kentucky which, since everything should have a name, merits the title of "The Battle of the Treasuries."

It is the Washington treasury against the Kentucky treasury. It is a Roosevelt backed candidate running for reelection against the governor of Kentucky who wants to be senator and is so remiss in the spirit of modern democracy that he visited the White House without learning to curtsy.

Thomas L. Stokes, a writer for the Scripps-Howard newspapers, has traveled Kentucky over, even those counties that have no modern roadways and where the people prefer to live in the memories of their feuds.

He reports that WPA political activity "is open and brazen" whereas Governor Chandler has met it in the only possible way he considered effective, the opening of the state treasury, the packing of the state payroll, the hiring of great droves of needless employees in order to build up as effective a political machine as that supporting Senator Barkley. Not only is this the battle of the treasuries, it is the battle of the century.

Listen to Mr. Stokes:
"Widespread use of WPA for Senator Barkley was demonstrated conclusively to the writer by generous samplings in communities visited on a tour which took me by automobile some 1400 miles and to all parts of the state."

"Through the WPA organization . . . there exists a political consciousness which is expressing itself actively in many ways and many places."

"Political activity is most energetic at the bottom among local directors and project foremen, and among local Barkley leaders who have contacts with WPA, and it is most prevalent and open in the southern and eastern sections of the state where they take their politics seriously and are not scrupulous about methods."

"WPA foremen are passing out Barkley buttons, instructing their workers that they must vote for the senator, and in numerous cases making support of him a prerequisite for jobs. Workers who have indicated a preference for Governor Chandler have been fired."

"Political use of WPA was disclosed to the writer through numerous interviews and sworn to in a series of affidavits which tell of discrimination and intimidation."

"Most workers now have learned to keep their mouths shut for fear of losing their jobs."

If the estimates concerning the releases of money by WPA Administrator Hopkins are accurate, Governor Chandler will have to make a re-assessment upon the people. Certainly the state treasury of Kentucky hasn't 52 millions in cold cash ready to spread over the state, and that is the amount already assigned by reliable estimators to the effort to hold Kentucky for the President.

If he loses, Governor Chandler is going down fighting anyway. He and his managers are using fire against fire, the devil against the devil, but they may not have sufficient fire and their devil may flunk on them.

The Governor's campaign manager declares openly that "if I find a man on a state job who's not for Chandler I'll fire him, and I still insist that it's an outrage to use federal funds for political purposes."

Governor Chandler is serving a purpose he probably never intended to serve. He is bringing out into the sunlight the animal that stands for the administration. Of course it isn't an elephant. And it isn't a bull moose. Neither is it a donkey. It's a hybrid. Its body is so thickly covered with hair one need not bother to examine and classify it but it has the head of a creature that feeds noisily and through a funnel-like protuberance that reaches far places.

PUTTING SOCIALISM INTO EFFECT

It is important news when the Mexican congress takes a step coldly hostile to the Mexican president.

But that is just what happened last week when an investigation was voted at Mexico City into the government community farms. The charge was made that "30,000 farm workers in the region are starving," and as the basis for this investigation the congress gave temporary approval to the declarations made upon the floor to this effect:

"Numerous documents have reached the congress saying that in Laguna farm workers are being exploited and robbed. While the farm worker faces hunger in his home the land bank employees who were presumably financing these farms move about in automobiles, organize scandalous orgies and profiteer everywhere."

"The bank employees financed the purchase of harvesters which were rented to the farm workers at the highest price obtainable and other government employees have organized various businesses to exploit the farm workers."

So it would seem there are stinging bees in this Utopia.

But there is a second matter in which the Mexican congress voted against the Mexican president and this is his project to give federal employees the right to strike.

When the government gives its workers the right to strike it has ceased to be a government and lost the sovereignty essential to its functions.

These socialistic proposals, and the ragged way in which they are handled not only invite disaster but make that hag's presence almost certain.

GOOD HATRED AND BAD HATRED

Recently the Post-Crescent printed under Opinions of Others an article cut from a Red newspaper and sent in by one with Red leanings.

It was as good an example of the sort of argument a twisted Red mind writes for other still more twisted Red minds as one may find in a day's travel.

It started with the notion that the Reds are hated and then it gloried in that hatred. It pointed out that all good men, all great personages from Christ to Lincoln, have been hated.

But it picked the wrong bottle of hatred.

It may be true that the Reds are hated in many quarters but where they are better understood they are more pitied than hated.

And where they are hated it is not because they are either Christlike or Lincolnlike. The screwiest of writers should remember that there have been just hatreds in the world, hatreds made necessary by the very revulsion of human nature at certain acts and conduct.

The bottle of hatred these Reds need look over is the one that has to do with Judas, not Christ; with Booth, the assassin, instead of Lincoln, the assassinated; with the Red Czolgosz who shot McKinley and not the kindly President who murmured with his last words forgiveness for his killer and "God's will, not mine, be done."

On the shelf of hatred there are some big bottles containing the bitter brands. Most genuine pieces of hatred have to do with murder, the wretched spilling of human blood to grasp control of political power. Then there is the hatred that Hauptmann stimulated and that now covers Florida like a fog. It is the sort of hatred people feel at pulling the beheaded body of young Levine out of Long Island Sound. It is a first cousin of the Red hatred.

It is the hatred of things bestial, horrible, damnable.

The bottles on the shelf of hatred are plainly marked too; there is no occasion for a Red mistaking the brand.

WAUKESHA CONVEYS ANOTHER HINT

Walter Liskowitz, Waukesha sheriff, indicted for malfeasance in office, filed an affidavit and petition requesting the circuit court to transfer his case to some other county for trial upon the ground that among the people of his county "there is widespread prejudice" against him.

This is a curious turn of affairs.

A man is popular enough to become elected sheriff only about 18 months ago. He takes office. He has the good will of the public. They expect he will perform certain duties set out in the law. But he doesn't. Or at least they think he hasn't.

The assumption is that lawbreakers, and particularly professional ones, will not feel altogether at ease in the presence of certain officials such as sheriff and district attorney, specially chosen by the people for the purpose of protecting the public from criminal activities and depredations, but sometimes, as it transpires, the lawbreakers feel more at home when a sheriff is right on hand than at any other time, as though people elected a sheriff for the purpose of protecting lawbreakers from interference.

Mr. Liskowitz will no doubt get a fair trial from the people of Waukesha county. But his affidavit that there is widespread prejudice against him is in fact about the highest compliment he could pay to the people.

It is a compliment that other sheriffs and law enforcement officers may pause and examine. For the people are becoming tired and disgusted, and soon will feel outraged, at law enforcement officers who seem, whether by design or indifference, to protect the lawbreaker.

A THREAT TO YELLOWSTONE

The beauty of Yellowstone National Park is threatened, Senator James P. Pope, of Idaho, has introduced a bill in the senate calling for the construction of a dam at Yellowstone lake and a tunnel for diverting water from the lake to the Snake river to be used to irrigate Idaho farmlands.

If this bill becomes law it will mean the commercialization of one of the nation's greatest

Jonah:

To "Stet" three cheers and a tiger. All it takes, sez he, to write a poem, is three minutes of his time and a penny postcard. Marvelous! And the readers could not fail to notice how his little poem lightened the gloom of the column, sandwiched, as it was, in between Jack Pyne's torrid Anti-New Deal letter and Jonah's daily diatribe against the present administration.

May I refer Jonah, D. Grade Pulp, Jack Pyne and other Anti-FDR's to an article in the current issue of "Reader's Digest"? A reprint of an editorial printed in 1912, that was aimed at FDR's illustrious relative and predecessor, Theodore Roosevelt, appears there. It is headed by the caption, "Nothing is said not that hath not been said before," and you will be amazed to find that it is practically word for word the same indictments that are being hurled at FDR by the opposition today.

Why all this talk about a THIRD party? The last presidential election plainly showed that there is only one party left. How can there be a Third party when there isn't any second party?

—MRS. G.W.

Pardon me, pal, but I'm not amazed to hear about the T.R. editorial reprint. We get the same magazines. It was an interesting comparison as far as it went. It may be even truer today than it was in 1912.

Why not a third party? Or a fourth, or a fifth? There may be as many as three Democratic parties by 1940, not to mention the Republicans or the LaFollette lads.

A man who knows how to argue can convince a woman that his side of the argument is the right side, provided she wants to think that way.

Strange how the photographer always does us such an injustice and flatters other people so much.

The girl who wasn't disappointed in love often finds herself disappointed in marriage.

We call our own faults eccentricities, but other people's, bad habit.

A woman is naturally so good hearted that she conceals from herself the fact that her husband isn't half worthy of her.

All thanks to Mrs. G. W. for freshening up the column today . . . I won't even argue politics or mention Iowa . . . The lady thanks J.P.M.C. for a letter . . . tomorrow: the Little Bundle . . .

He said: "When I retire I will not be a fish that falls upon dry land, half-spent, lying there, grasping with futility, dying at last, out of its element!"

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

Thursday, June 7, 1928

John Stewart Mills, son of Dr. and Mrs. N. P. Mills, was among the members of the graduating class at West Point military academy.

The first formal protest against the Superior street dump, which had been burning for several days and giving off an offensive odor, was received by the city council the previous evening from the Appleton Shirt and Pants company, owners of a building on the east side of the dump.

A new water shortage reservoir must be built at the Kauauna city pumping plant within the next year, according to an order received from the state health department, Mayor W. C. Sullivan said the previous evening.

Plans and specifications for the new home of A. H. Wickesberg, to be built at 832 Alton street, were completed. The building was to be a two-story structure, 46 feet long and 35 feet wide.

25 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Buchanan left on an extended visit to the Pacific coast.

Fifty couples attended a private dancing party at Werly beach the previous evening given by Edgar Schommer, Jack Hertl, Henry Boon and Gerald Galpin.

The Michael Dalton Farm of 47 acres in the town of Cicero was sold to William Lang of Milwaukee.

Without waiting to see what backing the citizens of Appleton would give a swimming pool where safety could be provided for young people, Fred V. Heinemann the previous day ordered lumber for its completion near the boat club.

The Kimberly hotel, which was gutted by fire March 6, was rapidly nearing completion. The structure had been entirely rebuilt and work had begun finishing the inside.

scenic recreational areas; the possible depopulation of the intriguing shoreline of Yellowstone lake and the sacrificing of supposedly inviolate public property to commercial interests.

When Yellowstone National park was created the Act of Dedication clearly defined the purpose. It called for the preservation of its natural curiosities, its forest, and its game; for the reservation of its territory from private occupation, so that it may remain in unrestricted freedom for the benefit and enjoyment of the people, and called for the granting of such leases and other privileges as may be necessary only for the comfort and convenience of visitors. Building a dam and constructing a tunnel certainly do not come within the precepts of this mandatory act.

Yellowstone should not be defiled or thrown open to any venture that would mar its beauty, tourist utility or scenic grandeur. The Pope proposal should never be allowed to get out of committee.—Detroit News.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

WEEPING SINEW

Any swelling or lump under the skin may be called ganglion, even a "kernel" or enlarged lymph node, but the common meaning of ganglion is weeping sinew, a swelling or sac, pouch or cyst of a tendon sheath filled with a thick fluid. To add to confusion, the name ganglion is the correct name for aggregations of nerve cells of the sympathetic nervous system.

Familiar situation of ganglion is the back or the front of the wrist. I had one for twelve years, caused, I believe, by strain or sprain, not, as some readers might think, from constant pounding on the capital "I" key of my typewriter, but from an unprovoked assault upon me by a crank in a motor boat I was innocently playing with. Most people with ganglion have no idea what may have caused it. In fact, the cause of ganglion is something doctors can only surmise. Perhaps a rent in a tendon sheath, or a degeneration of the tissue of joint lining (synovia) following some injury or inflammation. Ganglion occurs most frequently among the people who use fingers and wrists a great deal, such as typists, washerwomen, pianists, violinists, harpists, mandolinists and certain factory workers.

Removal of the sac and contents by dissection, under local anesthesia, is the radical cure. This is the logical treatment in any case where ganglion interferes with occupation or career.

A simple, homely old cure, so I have been informed, consisted of tension the wrist and resting the arm on a padded chair arm, then striking the lump a sharp blow with the back of a book. I recommended the book entitled "Personal Health" by Wm. Brady, M.D., for this purpose when it was in print. Now I can only suggest the use of a book about midway in size between Webster's "New International" at $25 and Brady's "Victuals and Vile" at 25 cents. Just how hard a blow to deal in this instance I never could decide—I pondered the question for six of the years I had ganglion and finally gave it up, as the ganglion gradually disappeared without waiting for me to make up my mind. But the underlying idea of the treatment seems plausible, don't you think? The sharp blow ruptures the sac under the skin, and thereafter all you have to do is keep a pad over the spot with a snug bandage or adhesive plaster or leather wristlet to hold it.

According to Dr. Carl Bearse of Boston simple puncture of a ganglion with a large bore needle such as that used in blood transfusions is always effective. This not only ruptures the sac but permits complete evacuation of the thick gelatinous contents. Following puncture and withdrawal of the fluid, a tight bandage is kept on for a day or two.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Impervious Hide

You say it has never been proven that anything can be absorbed thru an unbroken skin. Then why are hair dyes injurious? (Mrs. H. F. W.) Answer—Not all hair dyes are injurious. Some contain irritants that inflame the skin. Some contain poisons which, if inhaled in dried particles or dandruff over a prolonged period MAY produce for instance chronic lead poisoning. Aside from a childish vehemence of bald assertion, in that humorous weekly, the J. A. M. A., which is certainly not scientific evidence, there is no proof that anything can be absorbed thru unbroken skin.

Sanitation

Recently for two weeks I worked with other janitors of a large office building. My job was in part polishing cuspidors. We had to handle doorknobs while taking the cuspidors in and out of the offices, and without ever washing our hands between jobs. (August.)

Answer—But then, sanitation doesn't mean anything to people who tolerate cuspidors or the filthy habit they encourage.

Avocado
What beneficial elements, if any, are contained in avocado? (J. L.) Answer—Vitamins A, B, C and G. 26.4 per cent fat, 5.1 per cent carbohydrate, 1.7 per cent protein, about three times as much iron as the much touted raisin. (Copyright, 1938)

Your Birthday

"GEMINI"

If June 10 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a. m. until 12 noon; from 2 to 4 p. m., and from 9 to 11 p. m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a. m.; from 7 to 9 p. m., and from 11 p. m. until midnight.

Much may depend upon the way you greet people this day. An indifferent manner or any apparent lack of interest in whatever is being said to you, is apt to be a grave mistake. You will be judged by what are evidently your characteristics, so try to give evidence of only good ones. A happy disposition, combined with an outward show of compassion and affection, might do much to make this a red letter day for you. You should exercise cautious judgment in the buying of anything, for only by being deliberately complicated can it be avoided. Be careful that what might appear to be trifles do not develop into important issues through changing conditions. Married and engaged couples, and those who are deeply in love, must allow nothing to provoke them to the extent that they appear to be irritable.

If a woman and June 10 is your birthday, you probably prefer domesticity to either a business or professional career. You probably are essentially a homebody. You most likely never forget a kindness or a wrong. You should learn that it does not pay to harbor or mull over grudges. There is a possibility that you take what your friends say in jest or constructive criticism too seriously. Remember.

Seen And Heard In New York

New York—Occasionally a benevolent providence takes pity on reporters who wander into theaters where bad plays are being presented and the result is a little side entertainment that certainly isn't listed in the program.

With a disillusioned audience I was suffering through the first act of a very straggled "turkey" the other night, wondering whether to reach for my hat and depart or wait out the first act at least, when the presence of a lady with a large bundle in her lap insinuated itself into my ken. She sat directly in front of me, and when the lights came on, to the derisive jeers of the house, I noticed that the package was done up in brown paper.

At once the lady unwrapped her bundle and drew forth the manuscript of what assuredly must have been a 100,000-word novel. In manuscript form it looked like two or three novels. She caught up several sheets and began to read.

Now, as I have said, she sat directly in front of me, and, welcoming any distraction that would take my mind off the sad behavior of the actors, I read along with her. It was a harrowing story of a backwoods clan who never bothered to bury their dead. They drew their revolvers on sight, shot it out, and the losers lay when they fell. As the evening wore on I became so interested in the plot that I made notes, copying down various bits of conversation. One character was particularly fascinating, and he went under the adequate name of Rawhide. Here are some excerpts gleaned by peeping over a lady's shoulder:

Chapter three, page 27: "Rawhide heard that tell-tale footfall and leaped into action. He thrust his hand inside his hickory shirt and drew out a black, evil-looking pistol. 'Theet you, Jed?' he cried. 'Speak up, man, or I'll jes naturally salivate chum!'"

"Pears like yure mighty restless tonight, Rawhide," came the soft reply as Jed glided cat-like into the bunk house. "Uncurl yer trigger-finger and out thet thing away. Might go off."

"Lo, Jed," sighed Rawhide ironically. "Drag yerself up a seat. Yew orta know better to come in this time o' night 'thout soundin' off. Gimme a chew."

Well, it went on like that for several chapters, and finally the belle of the range, curtsying prettily, makes her entrance. A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—Kenneth Romney, House sergeant-at-arms, a Montanan by birth, thinks Texas has the ablest delegation of any state. He has been 25 years on the Hill and has this to say about some of the others:

Abtest Democrats: Speaker B. A. N. head of Alabama; Floor Leader Rayburn of Texas; O. C. Nor of New York, chairman of the powerful rules committee; Warren of North Carolina; Cooper of Tennessee, on the ways and means (taxation) committee; Jones of Texas, chairman of the agricultural committee.

Abtest Republican: Wadsworth of New York. (Used to be a Senator.)

Best lawyer in the House: Hutton Summers of Texas. (He's chairman of the judiciary committee.)

Most colorful Representative: Maury Maverick of Texas.

Best orator: Speaker Bankhead.

Outstanding humorists: "There isn't any."

Best Speaker in 25 years: Jack Garner of Texas.

Romney didn't name "most useless delegation" or "most hopeless orator." He's a far better politician than the Senate employee who a few years ago wrote a piece for a magazine. Most of what that fellow said didn't matter but the members called him out for the floor to learn what he meant by one sentence saying something to the effect that "Very few Senators have taken bribes." He tried to explain that he referred to the whole history of the Senate—but he lost his job anyway.

Panama Says 'Pay'

These Latin-American republics seem to be having a good time. The latest is Panama. Ever since Theodore Roosevelt "bought" the Panama Canal right-of-way this country has been paying the little republic $250,000 a year compensation, a sort of rent. After gold devaluation in 1933, however, Panama refused to accept pay in devalued dollars. It has refused payment ever since.

Recently a new treaty was negotiated and submitted to the Senate. It provided for increased payment as well as other changes in the treaty. But the Senate has not yet ratified it so Panama still gets no money.

Meantime, it had to keep on paying interest on bonds, many of which were held privately in the United States.

Now a virtual ultimatum (strictly unofficial) has been served on the United States, saying in effect that until the U. S. resumes payment of its Canal Zone rent Panama will pay no interest on certain of its bonds held in the United States. It was simply "you pay, then we pay."

Advise Smoked
Eye Glasses to Prevent Fatigue

Undue Exposure May Result in Headaches, Intestinal Trouble

Madison—"Prevent eye sunburn by wearing dark glasses," the state medical society advises.

"Sunburn of the eyes is just as common as sunburn of the skin. The iris of the eye is affected by the rays of sun and headaches result from this exposure. The eyes become red and feel tired. Undue eye fatigue may also cause intestinal disturbances.

"To ease this fatigue one should wear dark glasses, preferably smoked or black. Colored glasses such as blue, amber, rose, or green do not furnish the desired protection to the eyes, although these lenses, correctly ground, may be worn upon the prescription of the physician.

Temporary Blindness

"During the summer months, when the sun is particularly bright, one is apt to squint, causing fatigue of the eye and of the facial muscles, and there are times when the bright sunlight causes a temporary blindness. These conditions may be avoided by wearing black or smoked glasses. These glasses are not injurious to the eyes when worn temporarily and they can be removed without causing harm to the vision.

"Most cheap glasses are nothing more than mollen glass. Consequently, the glass contains imperfections and will cause eye fatigue when worn. It is as important to wear correctly ground smoked glasses as it is to wear the regular corrective glasses. Even though a person has no eye abnormality, necessitating the wearing of corrective glasses, he should be certain that his dark glasses do not contain imperfections. A good grade of dark glasses may be obtained at a slightly higher cost, but these glasses are ground correctly and will not injure the eyes. Your dark glasses may be checked by any eye physician to make certain that they have been ground with precision and will not cause eye fatigue.

Large In Size

"Glasses worn for protection from the glare of the sun should be large in size and this protection should be augmented by wearing a hat with a large brim. For those who wear glasses every day and wish to wear smoked glasses, attachable smoked lenses, which have been precision ground can be placed over the glasses regularly worn. It is not necessary to remove the corrective glasses to wear the smoked ones.

Construction of
New Bridge Over
Wolf Is Underway

Structure at Shiocton, to Cost $94,864, Will Be Completed in Fall

Work on the new Wolf river bridge on Highways 76 and 54 at Shiocton is now underway. The present small crew will be increased to between 40 and 50 men during the summer, according to officials of the Olson Construction company, Waterloo, Ia., which has the contract.

The company's bid for the bridge was $94,864 and $2,000 extra will be spent on landscaping. Cost of the entire project, including the cost of rights-of-way, will run between $160,000 and $175,000, according to Frank R. Appleton, county highway commissioner.

The spans will cover 402 feet, 6 inches. Width of the roadway will be 26 feet with a 4-foot, 6-inch walk on each side. Steel will be used for the 151-foot truss with the remaining five spans of steel and concrete and a concrete floor over all. The structure will be completed this fall and painting will be done next spring. The Twitchell home has been moved off the right-of-way.

WHEN LIFE DEPENDS ON TIRE SAFETY

YOU GET A Lifetime Guarantee WITH EVERY Firestone TIRE (No Time or Mileage Limit)

On May 30, Floyd Roberts shattered all track records for the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race with an average speed of 117.2 miles an hour using Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires

IT'S ALWAYS Firestone

FOR 19 CONSECUTIVE YEARS THE WINNERS OF THE INDIANAPOLIS 500-MILE RACE HAVE PROTECTED THEIR LIVES WITH FIRESTONE GUM-DIPPED TIRES

THEY said it couldn't be done—that tires could not withstand the torture of the new high speeds. Yet Floyd Roberts set a new record, at this year's Indianapolis Race, averaging 117.2 miles an hour for the 500 miles on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

With the sun-baked brick of the straight-away and the granite-hard surface of the turns pulling and grinding at their tires, 33 daring drivers, every one on Firestone Tires, waged a thrilling battle for gold and glory. Never before have tires been called upon to take such punishment. Never in all the history of the motor car has tire safety been put to such a gruelling test. Yet not one tire failed — not one single cord loosened — because Gum-Dipping, that famous Firestone patented process saturates and coats every cotton fiber in every cord in every ply with liquid rubber counteracting the tire-destroying internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

Why risk your life and the lives of others on unsafe tires? Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with Firestone Triple-Safe Tires — the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedways for your protection on the highways.

Scouts Worried About Too Many Modern Conveniences

Lighting facilities at Gardner Dam, valley council scout camp, will be improved this summer, but there's no reason for scouts who are proud of the rustic atmosphere of their sleeping cabins to fear that the council is going too modern.

When news of the new diesel power plant and transmission lines that have been installed at the camp circulated around the council, some youths who like the unadorned interior of their cabins were heard to complain. They didn't want any electric lights, they said. That's all right for the main buildings, but not for the sleeping quarters. They can get those conveniences at home.

Walter Dixon, valley council executive, reassured the worried youths today that there'll be no lighting fixtures cluttering up the primitive little cabins on the south side of Wolf river at Gardner Dam. The scouts will find them just as they were a year ago.

Power at the camp has been increased with the installation of the diesel plant, but the additional lights are being hung only where they will help operation of the camp—not where they will spoil the frontier-like appearance.

Main Buildings
"We are putting new lights in buildings where they will facilitate the camp staff and help the scouts in their recreation," Dixon said, "only in such places as mess halls, recreation rooms, reading rooms, and others where work and reading and games are centered."

The diesel plant is ready to run now, and last weekend a group of men from Appleton, under the direction of William E. Schubert, erected transmission lines at the camp. At the same time, workmen directed by Mowry Smith of Neenah, president of the valley council, he was arraigned before Judge Thomas H. Ryan in municipal court this morning.

Carl Hassel, 1224 W. Elsie street, pleaded guilty to a similar charge and was fined $1 and cost by Judge Ryan. Both were arrested by Appleton police.

Coalition Stock Goes Up as Henry Accepts Support

Candidate's Platform Stand Indicates He Will Court G. O. P. Votes

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—Politicians today were busy speculating on the Wisconsin Republican - Democratic coalition movement, the stock of which jumped a few points by virtue of favorable developments Wednesday.

Acceptance of the coalition committee's endorsement for governor by Robert E. Henry of Jefferson, one of Wisconsin's most prominent Democrats, is regarded in many high places as one of the most significant developments in state politics this summer. Coalition supporters today were happily thankful for his acceptance, for when he was picked a few weeks ago the slate-makers were hopeful, but not very confident, that he would enter the race for governor under their banner this year.

Another favorable and important development was the announcement by Theodore Dammann, Progressive secretary of state, that he would not object to the coalition's plan to run its state tickets in both Democratic and Republican primaries this fall. While this removes a very important barrier, and eliminates a necessity for an appeal to the state supreme court as originally planned, it may also be interpreted to mean that the Progressive state administration is not alarmed at the prospect of a union of Republicans and Democrats against it.

Could Have Objected
Dammann's position is such that he could very easily have expressed a doubt about the legality of such a maneuver—for there are no precedents in Wisconsin political history—and thus stalled the coalitionists' campaign by throwing the matter into the laps of the supreme court justices.

Date
Political dopesters are agreed that Henry is the most important gubernatorial candidate to appear in either of the old parties. That he publicly announced his approval of the Republican state platform probably means that he will actively court Republican support. It remains to be seen how Henry's subscription to the coalition idea will be received at the Democratic state convention which is to be held soon. Until this week he has been considered an almost certain to be favored by the state Democratic organization as a candidate for governor.

May Have to Compromise
One question troubled politicians and observers alike today. It is the possibility—remote as some may think it is—that Henry will capture the nomination in both party primaries, especially since the biggest names in the Republican party seem to prefer to run for the senate. In that contingency, it was believed, the party central committees would have to compromise, and one of them would have to put forward a new candidate, for Dammann has ruled that a candidate who is nominated in two primaries may run in the final election on only one party ticket.

The Fox River Valley section continues to be the most active coalition center. Winnebago county Democrats, reports Dr. F. M. Corry, Menasha, chairman, have already endorsed the coalition plan, while Mark Catlin, Jr., Appleton, is busily working on an independent legislative coalition system. Other valley leaders are ex-Senator E. F. Brunette of Brown county, Joseph Seftenberg, Winnebago county Republican chairman, and Harry Stumpf, organization Democrat chieftain in Calumet county.

FARM SPEAKER

M. Richardson, above, will be the representative of the department of markets at a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at Greenville gardens to discuss a movement to improve quality of Wisconsin cheese. He will speak at a similar meeting next Wednesday evening at the Seymour High school. Farmers will be given an opportunity of voting on a number of cheese questions.

Cheese Quality Subject of Study

Regulations Will be Discussed at 2 Outagamie County Meetings

Farmers attending cheese meetings to be held this evening at Greenville Gardens, Greenville, and next Wednesday evening at Seymour High school will have an opportunity to vote on six issues in a movement to better the quality of Wisconsin cheese. The meetings are among a series being held throughout the state by the department of markets.

The questions are on changing the grade which has been known as "Wisconsin Standard" to "Wisconsin No. 2"; restricting the "Wisconsin State Brand" to cheese that does not exceed 39 per cent moisture; favoring legislative action to lower the legal moisture content of cheese; favoring increasing the holding period of American cheese from the present four days requirement to six days; having state brands applied only by grades employed by the state; and having each and every lot of cheese to be offered for market graded at warehouses by state graders with the cost of grading charged against the cheese at the point of grading.

Cashman Protests Medical Society Action on Butter

State Organization Will Ask A. M. A. to Re-establish Standards

Continuing his campaign in support of dairy products, Senator John Cashman, Denmark, recently mailed over a hundred letters to officials of the American Medical association in Wisconsin in which he protested the attitude of the medical association because it had granted its seal of acceptance of oleomargarine to manufacturers and advertisers but repressed such endorsement for butter.

The senator called the attention of the members of the medical fraternity to the fact that milk annually contributes about 200 million dollars in income revenue to the farmers of Wisconsin and that the price of butter, dependent in substantial measure upon the demand of the public, has become the standard upon which the price of other dairy products is fixed. Request was made that "your county medical society discuss this situation" and that it take action "before the American Medical association's council on foods to maintain the prominence that butter and all other dairy products hold on the food markets of the world."

Senator Cashman declared that Wisconsin members of the medical fraternity are reacting favorably to his request and cites the response of Dr. S. E. Gavin of Fond du Lac, chairman of the Sixth District Council, as typical. The doctor wrote:

"You may be sure that all members of the Wisconsin Medical society are very much concerned regarding any action which in any way would be detrimental to the dairy interests in this state. We are already taking concerted action to remedy the situation discussed in your letter."

"It will be some time before another meeting of the county medical society of this county will be held, but we will not wait for such meeting to make our position very plain to the council on foods."

Senator Cashman complains that in costly full page advertising appearing in national magazines, oleomargarine manufacturers exhibit and post the sanction their product is receiving from the American Medical association, and believes that most members of the association are not familiar with this campaign and would not tolerate it were their attention called to the facts.

STATE SOCIETY ACTS

Madison—(AP)—The State Medical Society of Wisconsin announced today it would ask the American Medical association to re-establish through its council on foods suitable standards for butter and butter advertising.

The society's resolution will be presented at the association's meeting in San Francisco, June 13-17, to the house of delegates.

"On the contrary," the resolution states, "the council recognized that butter and dairy products are valuable components of the daily diet and thus an unintentional injury may have been done the butter and dairy industry by such withdrawal of the seal of acceptance."

The public, the resolution added, has recognized the council's valuable contribution in protecting it from unscientific health claims for foods and elimination of butter from the accredited list may have had far-reaching harmful effects.

CATCH MUSKIE IN LAKE WINNEBAGO

Bill Meltz, Twelve Corners, right, is proudly pointing to a 20-pound muskellunge he pulled out of Lake Winnebago yesterday afternoon while his fishing partner, Frank Altmann, Jr., also of Twelve Corners, agrees that it's a mighty big fish. The pair hooked the fish, which measured 40 inches, while trolling in about 6 feet of water. (Post-Crescent Photo)

$125 in Bills Play Tag With Wind; All Come Home

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good" and one Appleton man probably will believe in that adage for a long time to come as the result of a reported experience involving the tidy sum of $125 yesterday. The man, whose name has been shrouded with a cloak of secrecy, went to a local bank yesterday morning to deposit some checks and $125 in bills of various denominations.

Presenting his deposit slip and book to the teller he learned that the checks were in the book but the cashier was not there. He told the teller the money was probably at home and left to get it. He met a friend in front of the bank and was engaged in conversation when a five dollar bill drifted their way. They both dove for the greenback and the friend got it. About the time he was congratulating the friend upon his good fortune, a fast spot was seen playing tag with the breeze and he got to that one first.

The men conceded this was their lucky day and proceeded toward their cars parked across the street. They chanced upon some more bills near their autos and the man finally tumbled to the fact that maybe that was his $125 that was getting a thorough airing. He told his friend about the absence of the money he had intended to deposit and they both began an impromptu treasure hunt in the immediate vicinity.

Bills were found along the gutter laced in car wheels and scooting along the pavement. After searching for some time, the pair checked up and had retrieved $120, in "found." Jubilant over his good fortune, the man was thanking his friend and wondering where the last $5 had gone when it came skipping along with the wind and it was returned safely to its fold.

Comment on the incident agreed that "it would never happen again in a thousand years."

Lake Winnebago Is Good Enough for Him After Bagging Muskie

"These fancy fishermen can go to the northern lakes but ol' Lake Winnebago is good enough for me," beamed Bill Meltz, Twelve Corners, as he displayed a 20-pound muskellunge pulled in yesterday afternoon.

Meltz and his partner, Frank Altmann, Jr., also of Twelve Corners, set out about 3 o'clock and within half an hour the pair was struggling with the large fish which measured 40 inches.

The fishermen were trolling in about 6 feet of water in front of the Ar. Jones cottage when Meltz thought his lure had snagged on a log. A couple of healthy tugs changed his mind and when the muskellunge broke water—he "knew he had somethin' there."

It took 10 minutes to bring the fish to the side of the boat where Meltz plunged a knife in its side in an effort to subdue it. With the fish safe in the bottom of the boat, the men "pulled stakes" and began telling one and all that there are still plenty of real fish in Lake Winnebago.

Tosses Out Man Who Played Slugs, Loses Slot Machines, Fined
A disgruntled slot machine addict who played slugs instead of good American nickels caused Joseph Koehn, Little Chute tavern operator, to lose two slot machines plus a $25 fine which he paid after pleading guilty of keeping gambling devices before Judge Thomas H. Ryan in municipal court Wednesday afternoon.

Judge Ryan assessed the fine and ordered the machines confiscated. Koehn became a bit heated when he discovered the customer plugging his machines full of slugs and threw the offender out, it was brought out at the trial. The alleged offender complained to District Attorney Raymond Dohr that Koehn kept slot machines and the attorney ordered the sheriff to pick up the machines and arrest the owner. The result was a $25 fine, loss of the machines and about $14 in nickels which were in the machines when they were confiscated.

Strike of Laundry Workers at Hospital Curbs Surgical Work

Madison—(AP)—Dr. W. D. Stovall, acting superintendent of Wisconsin general hospital, announced today cancellation of all surgical operation schedules because of a laundry shortage.

He said the hospital routine had been disrupted by the strike of the A. F. of L. laundry workers against two local plants which rejected demands for closed shops and a week's vacation with pay.

"We are strictly surgical work to extreme emergencies," Dr. Stovall said.

The hospital, he said, normally sends out from 6,000 to 8,000 pounds of laundry a day. Most of it has been handled by the 3-F Laundry, one of the plants involved in the strike.

Dr. Stovall said arrangements are being made to do the laundering at the state operated hospital at Mendota and at Chadbourne hall, university girls' dormitory. Strikers will be employed under an agreement with the union made by A. E. Garey, director of the state bureau of personnel.

Dr. Stovall said he expected the regular schedule for operations would be resumed by Saturday.

Georgia Banker Hits Competition Of U. S. Agencies

secured by farm real estate declined from $1,447,483,000 to $504,138,000 while personal and collateral loans to farmers declined in the same period from $3,869,891,000 to $726,400,000.

"These figures show where a good deal of the country banker's profitable loans have gone in the last decade or so."

J. M. Conway, Green Bay, president of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association, also addressed today's session of the bankers' forty-fourth annual convention.

"You bankers have ample money and credit at your disposal to be loaned to individuals and business at reasonable rates, but business and individuals would like to be assured that there will be a profit to themselves after all charges, including taxes, commensurate with the risk taken," Conway said.

Equal Responsibility
"In addition to this, they would like to be assured that there will be equal responsibility on the part of employee and employer, a cessation of the fight among classes, and a continuance of our constitutional form of government."

Conway said the nation would not prosper "the way we all want it to" unless the small manufacturer can sell his capital obligations in a reasonable market.

"All of our economic units, including banking, agriculture, manufacturing, wholesale, retail, etc., should discuss their problems together," Conway asserted. "Unless we do work together for the common good of all industry there will inevitably follow greater governmental regulations and planning of our economic institutions, with the result that individual initiative and enterprise will be discouraged and our standard of living, instead of increasing as it has in the past, will decline in the future. We can only retain our positions by demonstrating that nobody else can fill them and perform their functions as well as we can."

Northeastern Unit of Letter Carriers Will Be Formed at Oshkosh

Letter carriers at the Appleton post office have been invited to attend a meeting at Oshkosh Saturday night at which a northeastern Wisconsin association will be organized.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Oshkosh Letter Carriers' association at Moose hall in that city. Formation of the new district association is in line with a resolution adopted at the state convention last year. It was decided then to divide the state into four sections to encourage more frequent gatherings and closer cooperation between city units.

George Weinfurter of Appleton, president of the state association, and Jerome Keating, Minneapolis, representing the national organization, will be present at the meeting. About 150 members and their wives are expected to attend.

Britain Studies Plan for Air Patrol To End Bombings in Spanish Waters

were ignoring Franco's orders and sinking out British ships for attack. Also concerned over the loss of life, the Vatican was reported to be directing "continual insistence" to General Franco against bombardment of Spanish civilians.

The air patrol, Britain was believed, considering would enlarge the powers of the international fleet created at British instigation by the Nyon conference last autumn to crush submarine piracy in the Mediterranean.

Presumably such an air patrol would be given the same orders as the warships—to shoot down on sight any air raiders attacking merchant ships trading with Spain.

Nyon Treaty
The Nyon Treaty was drafted last summer. It called Britain to a decisive stand against torpedo attacks on merchant ships and ships of other nations in the Mediterranean.

France was a signatory of the accord and Italy later joined it, all contributing their warships to the patrol.

In Britain should call another such conference, it was widely believed, both Italy and France might provide planes.

Throughout Britain, British foreign secretary, Lord Mountbatten, indignation from public and press over the attacks by insurgent Generalissimo Franco's air raiders.

The British-owned port of Gandia, Spain, was damaged and a dredge boat sunk yesterday in air attacks. Twelve foreign vessels have been sunk or damaged by insurgent air bombs in the last two weeks.

France also was aroused. Planes from across the Spanish border flew over French territory yesterday for the third time since Sunday despite French protests and reinforced aerial patrols on the border.

2 FREIGHTERS BOMBED
Denia, Spain—(AP)—The British freighter Isadora and the French freighter Brisbane were bombed today in separate insurgent air raids in government-held Mediterranean seaports. Seven persons were killed, including an observer for the European nonintervention committee, in the raid on the Brisbane by a lone bomber outside this harbor. Ten others were injured, four gravely.

Two of the dead were believed to be British, the nonintervention observer, tentatively identified as a Briton named Jones, and an agent of the ship's owners, named Bullock. The other three were French seamen.

Denia is 20 miles south of Gandia, the British-owned port which was bombed yesterday.

The Isadora was struck in her engine room about midnight in the harbor of Castellon de la Plana and was believed to have been put out of commission. There were no casualties, however, aboard the Isadora.

The Brisbane was set afire about the same time and still was burning at 11:30 a. m. today. It was feared she would sink.

The French ship, of 4,004 tons and loaded with fertilizer, was at anchor in the Denia harbor when the air raider struck.

The plane dumped four bombs on the ship and then sprayed her decks with machine gun fire.

A French destroyer at Valencia sped to the Brisbane's assistance and quickly reached her side. The French consul at Valencia came to Denia by automobile to investigate. Some of the victims were hit by machine gun bullets. One of the most seriously injured was the Brisbane's master, Captain R. Guyonot.

Hendaye, France, at the Spanish frontier—(AP)—The government shifted heavy reinforcements to the Useras sector on the Valencia front in eastern Spain today to bolster its crumbling defenses 12 miles northwest of Castellon de la Plana.

Steady insurgent pressure supported by heavy artillery and ceaselessly forcing government militiamen to give way in the salient.

Only in the Useras sector, however, were government lines in danger on the 60-mile front from Mora de Rubielos to Albuacer. And on both flanks of the narrow

It Is Said--

That employees at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company plant are concerned over a mother night-hawk that has laid an egg in a rather public place near the entrance to the plant offices. The egg rests on the ground near the parking space and is gray with black specks.

The mother night-hawk has been dutifully sitting on the egg all week long and everybody at the plant has been awaiting the appearance of baby night-hawk. Today, to everyone's alarm, the mother was not around and the egg was sitting there alone, looking strangely out of place. Some people hinted at a case of desertion.

New London — Eight runs with two men down in the sixth inning pepped the Plywood softball team to a 16 to 5 win over the Knights of Columbus, a city industrial league game at the Washington High school grounds last evening.

The score was 3-all at the end of the third but four errors by the K.C.'s, a triple blow by Vern Burton and a double by Syl Stern netted five runs for the Plywood in the fourth. The K.C.'s returned two runs in the fifth to trail 8 to 5.

A double play from the Rev. A. Baier on third to Don Farrell on first put down two of the first three Woodworkers in the runaway sixth. Three errors assisted five hits in making the eight runs.

Don Farrell hit the only home run of the game for the K.C.'s, knocking the ball across the road at the far end of the field for nearly a city block. The blow accounted for the two runs in the fifth frame. Maurice McDermott also got a triple for the Plywood.

Bob Shortell pitched for the K.C. team, allowed twelve hits, fanned three and walked six. Carl Ebert tossed for the winners, allowed seven hits, fanned three and walked one.

Indications are the league will operate with five teams, and a 5-team schedule will be drawn and distributed this week. One squad will draw a bye each week, games being played on Mondays and Wednesdays. The team managed by Bob Ullrich expects to secure a sponsor this week. They will play a practice game with the K. C. squad Friday evening.

New London—A cast of 100 local persons started rehearsals this week to appear in "The Circus", a 2-act comedy farce on circus life which will be presented at the Washington High auditorium next Thursday and Friday, June 16 and 17, under the auspices of the New London Band Boosters.

Legion Nine to Appear in First Home Tilt Sunday

Hardball Team Will Clash With Manawa on Improved Diamond

New London—The home fans will get their first peek at what the New London American Legion senior hardball team has been dishing out in the Wolf Valley league when the squad entertains Manawa here Sunday afternoon. In three league games the New London team has never been at home.

The Legion aggregation stands midway in league standings now and will be battling to keep above Manawa after leaving Weyauwega alone in the cellar with last week's rallying win. No changes have been reported in the lineup except that all players are expected to be on hand.

An improved diamond will be tested Sunday as the result of work by city crews at the city athletic park this week. Fifty-one cubic yards of sand and clay were dumped in the infield Tuesday to raise the section between the first and third sacks several inches. The raise removes the bump along the edge of the grass leading to the outfield and prevents water from standing in the hollows. Several games were postponed because rain did not drain off the field.

Limestone Layer Creates Trouble On Sewer Project

Drilling, Blasting Necessary to Excavate Ditches On Congress Street

Neenah — A solid 6-foot layer of limestone is causing A. G. Prunuske, city engineer, and the WPA crews who are installing sewers on Reed and Congress street considerable difficulty, the city engineer reported this morning.

Little progress has been made on the south end of Congress street, drilling and blasting are the only means by which the crews can excavate the sewer ditches. About 500 feet of sewers were installed on the north end of Congress street before the limestone was encountered.

Installation started on Reed street and then on Congress street, but when the crew ran into the stone, it was split, half of the crew being shifted to the north end of the street. Prunuske said that if the end of the layer of stone isn't reached soon, the crews again will be split and work will be started on Riverlawn avenue. Sewers will be installed on six streets this summer. There are 60 men working on the job.

Prunuske also reported this morning that the sidewalk repair crews are encountering considerable more work than was expected at the outset of the project. When the project was started, it was expected that about 100,000 square feet of sidewalk would be installed, but property owners are taking advantage of the low cost, 14 cents a square foot, and are having as much work done as possible. There are 30 men working on this program.

Graham Urges Graduates To Guard Birthrights

Neenah — Contending that the future of the nation is the responsibility of youth, Dean J. Clark Graham of Ripon college challenged Neenah high school graduates at commencement last night in the auditorium, never to sell their birthright of a life of productive, happy and useful living.

"Through cheating, carelessness and greed, you can sell your perogative of living," the college professor told the 132 graduates, as he pointed out that because men have sold their birthrights, the country and even the world is in its present condition. "Today's problem is not economics, or labor," he said, "but a problem of morals. If you settle the morals problem you will have settled all others."

"What we need today are organizations which can see beyond their own pocketbooks," the dean argued. "When you get out into the world," the graduates were told, "you will find people who cheat, and maybe you will get the idea that as everybody else does it, why shouldn't you? But does everybody cheat?" Dean Graham asked the graduates, answering his own question with "We are dependent upon doctors, teachers, lawyers, engineers and others, and if they cheated we wouldn't be here now. Now, do you want to cheat them?"

"The modern god is money. Eighty per cent of the crimes today are against property, and Europe is ready to explode because of greed," declared Dean Graham as he explained what he believed is wrong with the world.

Pointing out how carelessness can rob them of their birthright, the dean told graduates that "you are morally responsible to deliver the best brand of good you can. The average teacher as well as a lawyer, doctor or engineer is as good as he ever will be after he has been in the field three years. Then they sink into a rut, rest on a plateau. When you leave this auditorium tonight, it will take far more to get ahead than you have given to get where you are."

Finding Vocations

After telling the seniors that it will take an extra amount of perseverance and energy to keep from sinking into mediocrity, the professor turned to the audience and said: "You fathers and mothers who realize that you could have used a little more energy and gone further ahead, should now realize that it is never too late to get off the plateau, for many famed persons didn't find their vocations until they were 60 or 70 years of age."

The dean told the graduates that as educated persons they should carry into the world an objective calm instead of being excited, egomaniacal, and he attempted to bolster their spirits by telling them that prosperity will come and that jobs will be open to them.

He concluded his address with "Strive, seek and find but never yield your purpose in life, and you should dedicate yourselves to the highest of your powers to be honest and kind to mankind."

Dental Hygienist Presents Report

2,607 Examinations Conducted at Menasha in School Year

Menasha — Rated among the "sixteen wise cities" of Wisconsin by the state board of health because of the Menasha school dental program, a summary of the activities which earned that rating is included in the annual report of Miss Dolores Kasei to the board of education.

During the school year seven schools with an enrollment of 2,607 pupils were visited and 2,607 examinations were conducted. The entire school year was spent in examining teeth of all children in the grade schools. Notices were sent home to parents of children whose teeth were found defective. Honor rolls of children with sound teeth or those who had their teeth repaired were placed in the school rooms. Tools and brushes were given to needy children. Examinations revealed 1,361 cavities in six-year molars.

Forty-three dental clinics were conducted in Jefferson school with the cooperation of seven local dentists. Ninety-seven children were treated in 243 dental appointments. Parents received 1,110 notices of defective teeth and 100 were signed and returned by dentists, indicating that the work had been completed.

Dental clinics were held every Thursday morning under the auspices of the Visiting Nurse association. Eight extra dental clinics were held during the year because of the large number of children who needed attention. Several pre-school dental clinics were held at Jefferson school in an effort to form good health habits at the earliest possible time.

Stork Takes Edge Over Grim Reaper, Births Top Deaths

Neenah — Mr. Stork again took an edge over the Grim Reaper in Neenah, for according to the May vital statistics report of Dr. Frank O. Brunkhorst, there was an increase in the number of reported births over April, while the number of deaths remained the same. There also was an increase in the number of marriages. Five marriages were reported in Neenah during May compared with three during April.

Hedges Declares Schools Do More Than Teach 3 R's

Describes Attempt to Develop Personality Of Students

Neenah — Schools and instructors have a purpose other than teaching children the three R's, according to C. F. Hedges, superintendent of Neenah schools, who said in his talk at the noon meeting of the Neenah Kiwanis club Wednesday at the Valley Inn that "one of the functions of education is to assist children in developing well rounded and integrated personalities."

Hedges outlined the different concepts of what personality is, saying "There is no way of actually measuring a person." He named some of the common methods, such as eyes, chin, handwriting and shape of head, all of which are not scientifically reliable. He also pointed out the lack of integrated personalities in individuals.

In his discussion on reality, Hedges said that the biggest problem in life is for people to adjust themselves to reality, and one of the "objectives of education is to train boys and girls to see things as they are and make the best of it."

Hedges named the two general methods of adjustment to unpleasant realities. He said one method is to attack and change it but persons who do this are reformers and radicals. The other method is escapeology, withdrawing yourself from it such as those who take their own lives or bankers running away.

Rescue Fleet Will Serve Twin Cities

Privately - Owned Boats Will be Used for County Patrol Duty

Menasha — Neenah and Menasha will be included in the territory to be serviced by the privately owned boats which will be available for rescue and patrol duty for Winnebago county, according to the plans set up at the county board meeting Tuesday. Other communities where boats will be located include Oshkosh, Butte des Morts, Winneconne, Poygan, Omro and Eureka.

The board established a pay schedule which will apply to privately-owned boats used in emergency rescue or patrol work on Lake Winnebago and tributary waters under direction of the Winnebago county sheriff. The plan of having private craft available on call was expected to be more satisfactory and economical than the purchase of one county boat which could not serve all parts of the county alike.

Sheriff Paul Neubauer expects to have 40 or 50 boats listed for use. Boats will be available on all navigable waters of the county so that emergency calls may be promptly answered.

The pay schedule will be $10 base pay for three hours for small boats and $15.00 an hour after that and a base pay of $25 for large boats with a rate of $3 an hour after the first three hours.

Menasha — Garden tours, at home and out of the city feature Menasha Garden club activities this summer, as plans for a visit to the garden of Miss Celia Boyce this weekend and a visit to the home of Mrs. James Livingstone, Brown Deer, Milwaukee, June 23, were discussed at a special meeting of the Menasha Garden club held at the home of Miss Daisy Trilling Tuesday evening.

First of Series in Winnebago County to Take Place At Poygan Clubhouse

Menasha — The first of a series of diphtheria prevention clinics in Winnebago county has been scheduled for Friday morning at the Poygan Community clubhouse by Miss Katherine Weinman, Winnebago county health nurse.

Similar clinics will be held in other parts of the county later. The series is being arranged as a part of the regular health program in the county and also because there has been an increase in the number of diphtheria deaths in the state in the last year.

All parents having children between the ages of nine months and 12 years not previously treated for diphtheria prevention have been urged to bring their children to the clinic by Miss Weinman. Children treated before the end of their first year of life are usually immune to the disease for life. Modern methods of immunization leaves no soreness or reaction whatever with the exception of a few cases of temporary redness on the arm.

Neenah — Pick pockets working at Neenah high school during the commencement exercises last night must have been considerably disappointed, for the only victim, Arnold Sorenson, 315 W. Forest avenue, had no money in his purse when it was lifted, police reported today.

Sorenson's pocketbook was found this morning on S. Commercial street at the outskirts of the city limits. He was the only person reported having had a purse stolen. Make Progress In Assessment

Menasha Assessors Now Working on Real Estate Valuations

Menasha — Assessment of real estate in the Fourth ward is being carried on by Joseph H. Stommel and R. M. Heckner, city assessors. The assessment of personal property has been completed and the real estate assessment must be completed by August 1 when the board of review will meet.

The work this year is taking more time, according to Mr. Heckner, because of the many new homes which are being entered on the rolls for the first time. In 1935 the state legislature passed an act which exempted all new construction made during 1936 and 1937. The act practically amounted to three years of exemption because May 1 was set as the deadline from which to start real estate assessment.

"Any homes started before May 1, 1935, were included in the assessment of that year but those started after May 1 have not yet been entered on the assessment rolls for taxation purposes," Mr. Heckner explained.

The assessors this year are also using the card system of filing information which was inaugurated by the city. The card system makes the final report easier to prepare but makes it more difficult to gather the information in the field. Comparison with other pieces of real estate in the neighborhood is more difficult because it is impossible to carry the stack of cards on the job.

Menasha — John Zenefski, 815 Appleton road, and Elmer Keberlein, 813 Pulaski street have returned from a 220-mile bicycle trip to Wausau. They peddled there in 114 hours and visited relatives and friends.

The youths are going to rest for a few days from their strenuous trip and then are going to search for new worlds to conquer via bicycle. Chicago will be their next destination but the boys are not certain that they will be able to keep up with the 40 mile-an-hour traffic on the outer drive.

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters get rid of the waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Village and Two Towns Decide to Buy Fire Truck

Town of Wolf River and Village and Town of Fremont in Agreement

Fremont — Officials of the towns of Fremont and Wolf River and the village have agreed on a joint purchase of a new fire truck at a cost of about $3,000.

A tank holding 800 gallons of water and other equipment will be provided along with the fire truck for the Fremont-Wolf River Rural Fire department. The townships and the village will set up cooperative firemen's units to aid the rural fire department by helping organize water hauling, directing traffic and assisting in other ways in event of fire.

Fremont and Wolf River leaders in the present rural fire department movement point out that prevention of a single fire of moderate size in either of the three communities would more than offset the investment of the community in the department.

The town of Caledonia voted against a proposal to join with Fremont and Wolf River to organize a rural fire department and buy equipment, at the spring election in 1937.

The new truck will be stored in the Fremont village hall.

Jack Redemann, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Redemann suffered torn ligaments in his left shoulder, in an accident Tuesday. He was operating a tractor on his father's farm when he apparently fell to the ground and a wheel passed over him.

Waupaca Policemen Want Salary Back at Old Level

Waupaca — Old problems were hashed over and new problems presented when the city council held its bi-monthly meeting Tuesday evening.

Members of the police department petitioned the council that salaries be restored to the old pay level previous to June 1, 1937, which will be an increase of $10 a month for patrolmen and 5 cents an hour increase for relief officers; the salary of the chief to remain at $110. Salaries since June 1, 1937, have been $90 a month for Patrolmen M. H. Barnes and H. L. Holly; and relief officers are receiving 40 cents an hour. The petition was referred to the police committee.

The motorcycle which has been in dispute for two years, is again being considered as an important part in the equipment of an officer. The motorcycle had been sold with a down payment of $20 but the prospective purchaser, out of a job, was unable to complete payments. Upon motion of Alderman L. D. Seibert, the down payment was refunded and the vehicle is again property of the city. It may be reconditioned, licensed and used for controlling traffic, which is daily becoming more hazardous.

The transient question was discussed upon presentation of a bill of $36 for 108 meals which was entered by the custodian of the city hall. No decision was reached, but the matter will be brought again before the council at the next meeting.

The council ordered payment of $448, including a balance of $400 and interest of $48, for appraisal of the Wisconsin Public Service company. The appraisal was completed two years ago at a contract price of $1,400. Payment of the balance had been authorized, but had not been made. A bill of $220 for extra services was taken under advisement.

The bicycle ordinance came in for its share of heated discussion and riders will be advised of rules to which they must adhere under penalty of $25, in default of which payment a violator will be imprisoned for not more than 30 days.

Each bicycle must be properly registered and tagged, registration to be made with the police department by payment of fee of 25 cents and complete description of bicycle. Registration will expire July 1.

No bicycle will be registered which is unsafe mechanically, and the chief of police will have the authority to remove the identification tag if in his opinion it is unsafe. He may also remove the tag if rider is operating bicycle contrary to law. All traffic signs must be observed; it is unlawful to ride on any concrete sidewalk; the rider may not operate while carrying another person; no trick riding will be tolerated or operating without both hands on handlebars; headlights must be visible from the front for not less than 200 feet, with a red light or adequate reflector for the same distance.

Relief bills for the month totalled $1,193.82 of which $188.46 were for transient relief.

HOLLYWOOD LIGHTS CAMERA ACTION HAPPENINGS

BY ROBBIN COONS
Hollywood—if you like satire, and at the same time like cowboy-and-Indian stuff, "The Adventures of Marco Polo" was made to your order.
The new Goodwyn film, richly set in a background of 13th century China and the court of Kublai Khan, has all the elements of Blood-and-thunder excitement presented as you like it. Either straight, or tongue-in-cheek, it's top-flight entertainment. Both ways at once, it's an amazingly deft job.
Robert E. Sherwood's screen play about the fabled Venetian, here presented as "the first traveling salesman" in the person of Gary Cooper, fuses with history only where convenient. The emphasis, happily, is purely on comedy and adventure.

The Story
Marco sets out with Bungeccio (Ernest Truex) across Asia to establish, if possible, trade relations with Kublai Khan. Arrived after years, he makes the acquaintance of a scholarly inventor (H. B. Warner), from whom he gets samples of a food called "spaghetti" and a child's toy called a "firecracker" which later suggests a way to Marco out of his difficulties.

The difficulties pile up immediately. Marco not only gets romantically smitten by Kublai Khan's daughter (Sigrid Gurie) but bucks the intrigue of the wily Ahmed, so cruel and smooth a villain that only Basil Rathbone could do him justice. Fun and plot thicken when Marco tangles with gusty, forthright Kaidu (Alan Hale), rebel leader against Kublai Khan (George Barbier) and Kaidu's wife, an ambitious designer, played by Binnie Barnes (Sammy) Kaidu speech: "Boil him in oil!"
Archie Mayo's direction sparkles, the "kiss instruction" scene between Cooper and Gurie, a memorable highlight. And Miss Gurie, from Norway, can be put down as a real "discovery" for a performer as unstudiedly exquisite as Cooper's is natural.

Another Opera Problem
"Romance in the Dark" is Paramount's solution to the problem of presenting an opera singer on the screen. The idea isn't exactly new. Gladys Swarthout is the poor student who wins her chance in opera, just like all the other operatic heroines of the movies. Where Lily Pons in "Hitting a New High" became a jungle bird-girl, Miss Swarthout more directly becomes a maid in the home of operatic idol John Boles, gets in her singing like between comic battles of Boles and John Barrymore for the fickle attentions of Claire Dodd, finally gets her man after serving as pawn in this feud. Fritz Feld as Boles' handyman cops the most from Norway, can be put down as a real "discovery" for a performer as unstudiedly exquisite as Cooper's is natural.

he seems miscast as the temperamental tenor.
A young surgeon who got a few movie star cases has begun worrying about the publicity. . . . Prospective patient said he'd been wanting to consult him for some time but, on account of the famous patients, feared the fee.
El Brendel is one of the town's hardest-working comedians. He never comes to the set without a gag he's worked on the night before—and he never lets the director rest until he's sold him the idea.

Measles Cases Decline
In Appleton Last Week
Measles cases reported to the city health department showed a decrease last week when 72 cases were reported compared to double that number the preceding week, according to Claude N. Greisch, deputy health officer. Active cases in the city number 181 and cases reported since Jan. 1 total 912. Two cases of chicken pox also were reported last week.
The Lima Bean is of South American origin.

Defense of WPA Chief Opens Way To Some Inquiries

Incident May Indicate Presidential Policy, Lawrence Says

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—President Roosevelt's defense of Harry Hopkins' intervention in the Iowa primary contest is a curiously interesting example of the influences which on some occasions sway the presidential mind. They are influences born of personal sentiment and affection—not logic or political acumen.

When, therefore, after the WPA administrator had come out with a statement saying that, if he were now a resident of Iowa, he would vote for Representative Wearin instead of Senator Gillette and had brought down on himself a fierce attack, Mr. Roosevelt, with characteristic fidelity, didn't like to see Harry Hopkins suffer the ignominy of political defeat. The first rule of post-primary strategy is to let by-gones be bygones. Instead of letting Chairman Farley speak for him in congratulating Senator Gillette, or instead of keeping silent about the "indiscretion" of Mr. Hopkins—which is what even Majority Leader Barkley termed it last week in the senate debate—Mr. Roosevelt nevertheless felt constrained to defend his intimate friend, Harry Hopkins.

Official contact has been remarked upon generally in the capital, as Mr. Hopkins is often at the White House for dinner and in the evening. When, therefore, after the WPA administrator had come out with a statement saying that, if he were now a resident of Iowa, he would vote for Representative Wearin instead of Senator Gillette and had brought down on himself a fierce attack, Mr. Roosevelt, with characteristic fidelity, didn't like to see Harry Hopkins suffer the ignominy of political defeat. The first rule of post-primary strategy is to let by-gones be bygones. Instead of letting Chairman Farley speak for him in congratulating Senator Gillette, or instead of keeping silent about the "indiscretion" of Mr. Hopkins—which is what even Majority Leader Barkley termed it last week in the senate debate—Mr. Roosevelt nevertheless felt constrained to defend his intimate friend, Harry Hopkins.

As an endorsement of Representative Wearin? Surely, Jimmy Roosevelt wasn't born in Iowa and didn't go to school with Mr. Wearin. Likewise, why did the "elimination committee" headed by the president's trusted adviser, Tommy Corcoran, select Senator Gillette for attack? Was there no consultation with the WPA administrator or planning by the "elimination committee" to inspire the Hopkins statement. Surely, Tommy Corcoran wasn't born in Iowa and didn't go to school with Rep. Wearin. There's another question, also unanswered thus far. Why did the head of the government's humanitarian agency, which dispenses relief to millions of persons and which has been under fire for political activity, feel that his having been born in Iowa and having gone to school with Mr. Wearin were considerations so strong as to outweigh the known desire of the American people to have the WPA kept free from any suspicion of political manipulation?

Block Investigations But this is hard to determine accurately at present because Mr. Hopkins and the Roosevelt administration have consistently blocked all efforts to investigate through impartial channels the charges of political activity frequently leveled at the WPA. The Pennsylvania voters, for example, have clamored in vain for investigation, and the Roosevelt administration went so far on one occasion as to send attorneys from the department of justice to help prevent by court injunction a state legislative investigating committee from inquiring into relief matters in the Keystone state on the ground that it was a federal matter. Senator Tydings, Democrat, is this very week sponsoring a congressional inquiry into charges of politics in relief, and it remains to be seen if the administration will let it pass the senate.

ed move of a WPA administrator intervening publicly in a party primary—unless the president knew about it in advance. And if Mr. Roosevelt didn't, then why did the White House remain silent afterwards and allow so many of the voters of Iowa to believe that Mr. Hopkins spoke for the president himself? The president's defense of Mr. Hopkins could mean that the heads of all agencies and departments, whether political or not, are to be upheld by the White House hereafter in making public statements about their political predilections without a word of restraint from the chief executive. The inference that Mr. Roosevelt approves political activity, even by the heads of supposedly non-partisan agencies, like the WPA and PWA, may now be widely entertained because Mr. Roosevelt, far from criticizing the Hopkins statement, openly says the WPA chief did the proper and

78 Million Gallons Of Sewage Treated At Plant Last Month
A total of 87,967,000 gallons of sewage, an average of 2,838,000 gallons per day, was treated at the Appleton Sewage Treatment plant during May, according to C. O. Baetz, plant superintendent. Maximum flow for one day was 17 million gallons. Operation of the plant from Jan. 1 to June 1 cost $4,910.85. Cost of operation last month was $1,226.61 including $540 for labor, $105.68 for power and $389.85 miscellaneous. Power costs were increased because of the operation of the flocculator, which started last month. During the month 9,250 gallons of sludge and 245 cubic feet of grit collected at the plant. Reduction of suspended solids was 77 per cent and reduction of other solids was 99 per cent. Gas produced at the plant totaled 1,019,000 cubic feet of which 533,700 cubic feet was used to heat tanks and 90,000 feet was used to heat other buildings. 2,000,000-WORD BOOK Denver—Dr. On vacation, Thomas E. Wolfe, North Carolina author of "The Wayward Bus," generates so much energy he has difficulty sleeping. "I have just finished a 2,000,000-word manuscript that represents the first big step in the development of what will be four books," he said, pacing, bright-eyed, up and down the room. He said he wanted to rest but was too "wide awake." His new work is intended to "express the sweep and variety of American life."

WICHMANN Furniture Company

OCTAGON HOUSE BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR

The Story So Far: Asey Mayo, Cape Code detective, is investigating yesterday's murder of Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has aroused Quammet. She was killed by a left handed blow from her sister's knife. Suspected Pam Frye disappears after hiding $50,000 worth of ambergris, the island. Roddy Strutt's, alibiing plane crash looks deliberate, and the movie alibi of agreeable Tim Carr, boarder at the Frye's Octagon House, is false. Asey overhears Tim's grandmother ask him, "Where did the girl put it?" Then Asey asks Pam's father if he knew about the ambergris and where Pam hid it. Aaron Frye disclaims knowledge unconvincedly. Asey tells Aaron to watch the Carrs.

Two Sheets of Paper
THERE was no sign of Aaron Frye or the Carr family. "What happened?" Asey asked the lone trooper in front of Octagon House. "Supper time, for one thing, and fan dancers. "What?" "Yeah, I hear they got a regular midway going full blast up town Streets of Paris, or something Quammet's gone nuts, if you ask me. Getting hot, ain't it?" Asey took off his cap and mopped his forehead. "Hot," he agreed, "on all sides. The trooper grinned. "You'd ought to keep that cap on," he said. "Once you get out from under that visor, you're you." Asey thrust his cap into his pocket. "Between you an' me," he said, "it binds me, anyway. Where's Hanson gone?" "Out after you, I think. He's got a new idea, and I think it's good. I think the boy's got something of course he claims he had it all along, and this business of Pam was just a blind, I wouldn't know." "Jack Lorne, huh?" Asey asked. "That was my idea," the trooper admitted. "but Lorne's got the hell of an alibi. A couple at a garage in Chatham last night, around eight-thirty. His car'd gone on the blink. They had a few drinks on the way home, and then they dumped him off here around a quarter of eleven. People across the street seen em. Pam Frye had already phoned for someone to come to Octagon House. We checked up on everything. The couple's okay. The garage time's okay. The guy at the road house remembers 'em. So Lorne's out of it. He--there he is, see? Going alone in that convertible? Whee," he added, as brakes squealed. "I guess he's changed his mind and is coming here."

Asey watched curiously as Jack Lorne got out of his car and crawled through the barricade. He wore sloppy, paint stained dungarees and a faded red polo shirt on which two gold safety pins were pinned. He was amazingly young looking, in spite of the day's growth of beard on his face. And even the beard couldn't hide the weakness of that mouth and chin. "We Must Find Her" "Where's Hanson?" he demanded petulantly. "Where is the man? Away? Well, when's he coming back?" "I don't know," the trooper said. "Tonight, later, probably. If this mob up in the village doesn't take up his time." "What does he think this is, a mardi gras or a murder case?" Lorne turned and looked at Asey. "You're Jennings' helper, aren't you? Thank God. That water system's all hardware again. He didn't begin to fix it yesterday. The bathroom's overflowing all over the place, and the tank in the cellar is leaking in all the places he said he fixed. You are Jennings' helper, aren't you?" "No," Asey said, "that's just my incognito I'm Asey Mayo." "Well, thank heaven for that," Lorne said. "I want you almost more than I want Jennings. Peggy Boone and I've been hunting for you in relays all afternoon. Where's Pam, do you know?" Asey shook his head. "Doesn't Peggy Boone know? Somehow I thought she would." "She doesn't I don't. We've been to all the people she might have gone to, and no one's seen her. We've got to find her. We must!" "To hand her over to the cops, you mean?" "No!" Lorne said. "Of course not. What a crazy idea!" Asey looked at him. "But I heard tell that you said she killed your wife, eh?" "Yes, I know I did I thought so. You'd have thought so, too, last night. Look, sit down here and let me talk. I've got to talk with some one. If I don't I'll go mad. I want--" "Say," the trooper said, "if you two're going to talk, just guard the place here for me, will you, for a few minutes? I want to see where Shorty went. He ought to be out back there, and I haven't seen him for a long while. Just because things look quiet isn't any reason for him to take a nap--" "Okay," Asey said. "Well sit here. Now, Lorne, what's come over you to change your mind so?" "Peg Boone, for one thing," Lorne said. "She sat me down in a chair and talked to me like a Dutch uncle--and she car, too. She's got a horrid temper. She's tried to talk to me before, of course. Lot's of people here."

Pegler Flays Hague's Use of National Guard

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—This is the day I eat a platter of crow. Frank Hague, the mayor of Jersey City, is as ruthless and dangerous as Huey Long was at his worst, and the gang of hoodlum politicians who serve him on the bench and in public office in northern New Jersey are the same kind who performed for Long in Louisiana.

Knowing that many of the so-called invaders of Jersey City are New York communists who would assert their constitutional rights only to gain the power to suppress the rights of others, I have given aid and comfort to Hague. I have known him as a political figure for years and have met him a couple of times, and always, until now, regarded him as a familiar type of "dese," "dose" and "dem" local American political boss.

The graft in Jersey City is about the same, in proportion, as that in Louisiana and in Commendatore Tomaso Pendergast's Kansas City. That, however, is not a matter of national concern, nor did it seem to me unreasonable that he should officially forbid speeches and demonstrations which would block traffic and might cause riots in the principal square of the town.

Moreover, his pressure on local property owners to prevent the communists and other reds from hiring halls in which to hold meetings seemed to be in line with the boycotts and secondary picketing by which his enemies regularly punish not only those who oppose them but innocent parties not even remotely connected with their fights.

I think this is dangerous practice, and unfair if not illegal, but it seemed inconsistent of Hague's opponents to protest when struck with their own whip.

But when Hague turns out the national guard to march in a dictator's parade which blocks traffic in the very same public square that he was so careful to keep clear of other blockades he is a worse menace than Stalin's men. It is the custom of the communists in countries where they see distress reach a certain point to proselyte in the army and the police force, and they doubtless intend to try that here if they have not done so already. But Hague, like Huey on many occasions in Louisiana, has taken over the troops, 700 of whom marched under arms behind Brigadier General William A. Higgins, who acted as grand marshal.

By What Right Were The Soldiers Ordered To Arms? Hague already had the police force, which is well equipped, well disciplined and brutal in its loyalty to the dictator, but that was another local matter. Every mayor in at least titular command of the local police and not many mayors require their cops to keep their tempers when the communists spit in their faces, kick them and rip their clothes.

But Hague has now assumed command of the soldiers of the national guard, with their guns and ammunition, to serve as his personal army. It is a dangerous temptation to a badly balanced politician, and Hague gives indications that he has lost his head and is thinking of using troops to support a regime which has left unanswered many charges of craft and persecution.

By what right, I wonder, were the soldiers ordered out with their equipment, which is government property, to make a demonstration of armed force for a local Hitler? The Armed Force Could At Least Say Something

It may be remembered that Huey used troops to steal election records, to raid a gambling house which was competing with a night club owned by one of his own mob and to intimidate the people while he was rushing through the Louisiana legislature dozens of laws abolishing local government and creating a system of graft from the salaries of public employees which exists today for the benefit of the Leche machine.

President Roosevelt has been asked whether, as commander-in-chief, he agrees to Hague's misuse of the armed forces. He gave his answer in Huey Long's time when the most pointed admonition came from a father whose son had been called to the colors. The young soldier's father wired Huey that if this boy were hurt he personally would track down Long and kill him.

The national administration never did anything to curb Huey beyond indicting some of his henchmen for income tax violations, and those still untied were absolved and welcomed back after his death. I don't know the law. Maybe the president can't do anything to Hague, but at least he can say something. This man has gone haywire. He is so thick and clumsy that he had to go completely over to fascism to out-scuffle a few Stalinites.

INCUBATORS RECOMMENDED

Chicago—(P)—Getting the "cluck-cluck" out of the little red hen and making her stick strictly to egg laying was a problem of interest to delegates attending the annual National Poultry Improvement Conference, held here. State and federal poultry experts told the egg men they should substitute incubators for brooding hens.

Liquor and Beer License Fees to Stay Unchanged

Little Chute Board Also Retains Charges on Other Licenses

Little Chute—It was decided that the liquor and beer license rates for the village of Little Chute will remain unchanged from last year at a meeting of the members of the village board Tuesday evening. The wholesale liquor license will be $50. Liquor and beer licenses will be $75. The village clerk will send out the application blanks within the next week and tavernkeepers will fill out and sign both the application for license and the bonds. They must be returned to the clerk before June 20.

The fees for dairy license and cigar and electrical licenses also will be unchanged. Dealers in cigars must renew their licenses by July 1.

Gregory Lenz, fire chief, has been authorized by the board to attend the fire chiefs convention at Manitowish July 10, 11 and 12. Several relief cases were discussed and action was taken on them. The monthly report of the electrical inspector was read showing the number of electrical permits issued during May. The police report for May was read showing the number of arrests that were made, the number of bicycles registered and taverns that have been open for business after 1 o'clock in the morning. The renewal of the insurance on the fixtures in the village hall and also on fire equipment was given to Martin Van Hoof of this village. Checking of the condition of sidewalks has begun and replacements will be made wherever necessary according to the engineer. The repairing of sidewalks will begin within a few days. The next meeting of the board will be held June 22.

Members of the grade division of the St. Agnes sodality of St. John church held their annual outing at Oneida Tuesday. About eighty members attended. Games and contests provided amusement. The group was chaperoned by the Rev. Robert Klein.

Lambert Laeygraef suffered an injury to his eye Tuesday. He was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital for treatment. The accident occurred while he was raking his lawn. He was wearing glasses and the handle of the rake struck his glasses.

New York (AP)—Buyers regained some of their courage in today's stock market and leading issues were given a belated lift of fractions to around 2 points.
Strength in major commodities was partly responsible for the forward tilt, brokers said, the speculative demand for staples apparently reflecting a revival of inflationary possibilities inherent in the government's forthcoming pump-pricing program and the growing feeling in the financial sector the huge amount of idle bank credit may soon get to work.
While the ticker tape idled during the morning, it quickened its pace after noon. Transfers approximated 600,000 shares, or more than 120,000 over the previous session.

ple have. But I never believed 'em. I—" he choked and turned his head away.

"You mean," Ascy said, "you loved your wife. Is that it?"

"I loved her," he said. "I loved her. I didn't believe the others, and what they said, and the wisecracks, and the things they insinuated, and all the rest. I wouldn't have believed Peggy today, except—well, I'd found out lots of things. When I saw Marina lying there in the garage last night, I nearly went crazy. I was a little tight, too. And I recognized Pam's knife. And then Pam came in, looking like the wrath of God—well, I just went off my head. I thought Pam had killed her. Just as I thought Roddy was doing a big favor to offer that reward. And then I found things out for myself I—ah, I can't talk about them! I can't do it! I don't want to believe them even now! I hate them—here take these and read—"

He pulled an envelope from inside the faded red shirt and thrust it out to Ascy.

"Read what's inside!" he said bitterly. "Read them! Read them and see how I feel! See why I'd have done some murdering on my own account this afternoon, if Peggy hadn't taken the gun away from me!"

Ascy read through the two papers, and then he read them through again.

Then he looked beside him at Jack Thorne, face down in the grass, unashamedly and uncontrollably weeping his heart out.

The contents of those two sheets of paper were, Ascy thought, sufficient to cause far stronger men than Lorne to weep.

"If," Ascy said, "they're genuine—"

Jack Lorne sat up and wiped his eyes with the back of his hand.

"They're genuine enough! Don't you see? Marina was never really married to me! Our marriage never meant a thing. She was married all the time to Timothy Carr!"

Warns Against Salesman

In Fraudulent Business

Average Life Span

Increases to 57.7

Years in Wisconsin

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—The average age at death in Wisconsin mounted in 1937, for the third successive year, to a new high of 57.7 years, the greatest average span in state history, the state board of health disclosed today.

In 1910 the average age at death in Wisconsin was exactly 40 years, and in subsequent years the annual average has fallen below that of the preceding year only five times.

Here is the state board of health's explanation of the gradual rise:

"The winning fight against several communicable diseases that formerly did wholesale murder among our infants and children has been a clearly perceptible force in this field. Along with this conservation of infant and child life are a decrease in births and a more recent trend in which adults are protecting themselves against early onset of the organic diseases, which can be postponed through exercising careful personal habits."

'Old Man' of Birling

Enters Escanaba Meet

Escanaba, Mich. (AP)—George Glazier, 61, of Washburn, Wis., the "old man" of the birling game, is the first to file a formal entry in the world's championship log rolling tournament to be held here Aug. 12-14.

Glazier, who participated in the lumberjack contest on the log drives in the Chippewa river in Wisconsin 30 years ago, lost in the semi-finals last year to Walter Swanson, Pacific coast champion.

One of the youngest birlers, Roy Hagen, 17, of Washburn, was the second to enter.
